PAN EXTENDS PIPE OF PEACE DESPITE BARS

Will Make No Effort to Revise Treaty.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Japan, since the arms limitation conference, has changed its policy in respect to American immigration and land holding restrictions and has decided to stop raising questions likely to stir up ill feeling between Japan and the United States.

This disclosure of one of the great results of the conference called by President Harding was made today.

Notwithstanding a vigorous campaign in Japan to compel the government to insist upon revision of the present treaty, which expires on July 17, the Kato government will not attempt to bring about a revision at that time, and will continue to work for moral relations between the two countries.

New Ambassador Friendly.

Prime Minister Kato, who headed the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference, is thoroughly committed to the policy of amity and understanding with the United States.

The sentiment toward revision of the treaty by the backing of an organization called the "League of Nations" is being questioned.

The society objects to provisions of the treaty which do not permit Japanese to own agricultural land and it insists that Japanese residing in the United States in general should receive the same treatment as Europeans.

What Treaty Provides.

Under the terms of the present treaty, Japanese in the United States have the right to carry on trade, manufacture and retail, to own or lease property, to occupy houses, manufactories, warehouses and shops, to employ Japanese labor, to engage in business and to reside in residential and commercial districts, and generally to do anything in which it is necessary to trade, upon the same terms as native citizens or subjects.

The organization has determined to resist public opinion and is now engaged in a campaign of publicity, having in the text of a resolution recently transmitted to the Japanese government.

Resolved, That to realize the abolition of the American discriminatory treatment of Japanese in America we must force our diplomatic authorities to strive to secure equal commercial and industrial rights and interests with European peoples for the Japanese subjects in concluding the new American-Japanese treaty in July, 1924, and we expect to attain the same result by all means.

In reply, the Kato government made the statement:

"The Japanese-American treaty will remain in July this year, but will continue in force provided that no notice is given by either party to terminate the revision of the treaty."

By Treaty Is Deficient.

"The naturally are of the opinion that the existing treaty is deficient in many respects, but hope to materialize our desires on some more favorable basis, after having obtained the understanding of the Japanese government as well as its."

The government also approves of the public opinion on the subject of the treaty for the sake of advancing the understanding of the Japanese government.

But it is premature to resort to measures, which seems to indicate that the Japanese are laboring under an erroneous conception of the reality of the treaty."

HUNGARY COURT SEIZES PROPERTY KAROLYI HELD

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 21.—[By the Associated Press.]—The property of Hungary, Michael Karolyi, Hungary's last president, has been seized by a court in Budapest.

The court found Karolyi guilty of having been a traitor to the Hungarian nation during the war and of having been a member of the Emperor Charles and his family.

The sentence Karolyi will lose his property and 40,000 acres of land.

BOODLE PROBE GOES ON ROCKS; CHARGES FLY

Brundage Denies He Played Politics.

Unless a resurrection takes place the school board investigation by the present special grand jury may be legally dead. The secretary of the jury made the declaration yesterday and later the foreman said "Amen."

The grand jury's secretary, Alexander B. Seelenfreund, said there was no use in attempting to continue the investigation, that there was "too much politics." And Foreman John J. Boyk told Chief Justice McKinley that the panel would hold its final session Tuesday night and appoint a committee to draw up its report.

That the inquiry into the school board will be continued was indicated by Attorney General Brundage and his special assistants, Frederick A. Brown and Marvin Barnhart, appointed at the instance of the Chicago Bar association, which persuaded Brundage to lend to the inquiry the power of his office. They may ask the impaneling of a new special grand jury.

Seelenfreund and a Mystery "Bribe."

Both Brundage and State's Attorney Crowe were mentioned in the "too much politics" charges by Seelenfreund, who was the juror who some time ago reported a mysterious offer of a bribe of $20,000 in exchange for which he was to "go easy on" the investigation.

Both officials were indignant over the charges.

"If there is politics in this," said Brundage, "it is mine. I have not interfered with the work of the lawyers' committee appointed with the endorsement of the Chicago Bar association."

"There is a majority campaign drawing to a close and I suggest that the motives of any one attempting to block the continuation of the investigation be inquired into."

Trying to Injure G. O. P.

State's Attorney Crowe charged that Seelenfreund was a member of the campaign committee of County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr last fall.

"And this is nothing but an effort to injure the candidate who is certain to win the Republican nomination for mayor," he added.

But Mr. Crowe was also named by Seelenfreund in another connection. This charge was that Mortimer B. Flynn, municipal coal contractor, had told the grand jury he had given to an attaché of the state's attorney office $3,000 which was to go to Crowe as a campaign contribution.

"That is an absolute lie," said the prosecutor.

THURSDAY HOSTILE EFFORTS

Seelenfreund's outburst came almost simultaneously with other important developments in the school matter upon which, to a large extent, it has been waiting.

First there was a victory in Judge Denis E. Sullivan's court when the attack on the county board's appropriation of $165,000 was frustrated. A "taxpayers' petition for an injunction, said to have been inspired by hostile interests, was denied.

Second came the decision of the Supreme court which had been expected to settle the question of the special grand jury's powers. An appeal in contempt proceedings against witnesses had been counted upon to settle the point whether the jury is still legally alive. Much to the surprise of the Brundage lawyers the high court did not pass on this point.

The Seelenfreund bombshell came while the attorneys for the Bar association, Roger Sherman, William H. Sexton, and Charles Center Case, were battling in Judge Sullivan's court.

When Attorneys Brown and Barnhart returned to their offices they learned that Seelenfreund had declared himself "through" with the investigation.

They said he was alone in his opinion, the rest of the jury being inclined to go ahead.

"It's all over," said Seelenfreund to newspaper men. "Crowe and Brundage have conferred too often on politics; they conferred the investigation to its end. It's not that there is no more graft to be investigated. There is, and the inquiry should go on. But I am satisfied an honest investigation is impossible here, politics is so corrupt."

Yesterday he charged that the assistant attorneys general gave the jury no aid in interrogating Flynn. They also failed to procure evidence desired by the jurors, he stated.

"We couldn't get anywhere when they left everything to us," he complained.

MISSING BABY'S BODY IN RIVER AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—After a twenty-seven hour search, in which police, school children, and boy scouts took part, the body of 3-year-old Mary Louise Hyde, daughter of Dr. C. C. Hyde, was found floating in the St. Joseph river late this afternoon.

The body had been trailed all of last night and most of today, and the hunt in that direction abandoned by all save two scouts, who, late in the afternoon, saw the body floating near the shore.

The child disappeared from her home at 11 o'clock Tuesday and it was feared she had been kidnapped, neighbors recalling that two years ago threats had been made against Dr. Hyde. The alternative theory was that the child had wandered two blocks from her home to the high bank of the river and fallen in.

For a time also fear was felt that she might have been captured by a moron, the police having been told of an attempt by a man on Monday to entice two small children into his automobile.

"He paid $25,000 cash and borrowed $125,000 from a New York bank, securing it with the stock of the insurance company. One of the first moves was to replace officers and directors of the company with men of his own selection. One of these men was Frank L. Taylor.

"Last winter Marcino bought control of the Mechanics and Merchants bank in Philadelphia, a small institution with $17,000 capital stock and $2,500 surplus.

"The loan from the New York bank was due Jan. 23. On Jan. 23 Marcino borrowed $125,000 from his Philadelphia bank, giving twenty-six notes secured by stock of the insurance company. The names signed to these notes were names of persons who did not exist.

Promises to Make Good.

"When the Pennsylvania state banking department learned Marcino's notes were spurious they conferred with him. He promised to make the notes good.

"In the meantime, Taylor, who was connected with the Niagara company, disappeared from Buffalo and showed up in Warren to become the president of the First National bank. One day last week Marcino was seen in Philadelphia and it learned he was plentifully supplied with cash. He was to meet the bank examiners the next day and make good the $125,000. We have not seen or heard of him since."

Under the name of Motters, according to the Bureau agency, Marcino bought control of the Niagara company. In 1917, when the institution left his hands it had lost about $40,000. In the same year he bought stock of the Harbor City Savings bank of San Pedro, Cal. The state banking examiners advised the other stockholders to buy Marcino's stock back, which they did, at a profit of $4,500 for him. At other times he bought stock of banks at Ottawa, Ill., and other mid-western cities.

The state insurance officials took over the Niagara insurance company when it found Marcino had caused large blocks of its securities to be sold.

Still Operate Bank Company.

"They are operating the company and expect that policyholders will not suffer loss. Although established in 1885, under the name Bankers' Insurance company, the concern has only about $3,000,000 of insurance outstanding. It has no connection with the Niagara Life insurance company.

A conference regarding the affairs of the company and Marcino's operations was held in Buffalo yesterday between Vincent Wright of the department of justice, Fred M. Healy of the Bureau agency, and C. C. Fowler of the State insurance department. They refused to tell what passed at the meeting, but it was intimated they were seeking to get in touch with Marcino, Frank L. Taylor, and R. M. Taylor, who was treasurer of the company.

Marcino is believed by both Bureau agents and operatives of the department of justice, who were out, the warrant for Taylor's arrest before United States Commissioner Glass, to have fled to South America.

"THIEF TRUST" ACCUSED.

Warren, Mass., Feb. 21.—Detectives assigned to investigate the disappearance of Frank L. Taylor, president of the First National bank of Warren, and $200,000 in bonds and securities, said tonight that warrants also will be asked for Joseph E. Marcino, whom they term the ringleader of an international organization held responsible for the robbery.

Word was received from Buffalo, N. Y., during the day that the $125,000 of the stolen bonds were sold in that city on Feb. 7.

Prosecuting authorities express the belief that few of the bonds will be recovered from Taylor or they believe he is one of the "paws" for other persons. Detectives said tonight that Marcino gained control of the Niagara Life insurance company of Buffalo, N. Y., which is now in the hands of the state insurance department, by alleged manipulation of funds and that he was arrested in California several years ago for a similar offense.

He represented himself as Edward J. Goldman when he secured control of the Warren bank, while his real name is declared to be Joseph Blata, alias Joseph Mossel. They fear he already has gone to South America.

When Taylor, a "dummy" for the Goldman or Marcino interests, became president of the bank, say detectives, he forced Sidney D. Gilligan out of the office of cashier. Gilligan was supposed to retire on Saturday, but he was paid off one week earlier and told he was no longer needed.

Bank's Paper Vanishes.

Marcino obtained a safe deposit box in the bank, detectives said tonight, being allotted the box next to that in which the stocks and bonds of the bank were kept. In some manner not disclosed by detectives, Marcino was given the wrong key for the safe deposit box. The key given him opened the bank's receptacle, they assert, and Feb. 6, the day after the bank was examined by Federal Bank Examiner Harold W.

Black, some one, whose identity is unknown, removed the $200,000 in securities leaving a memorandum of the bonds taken in the box. This was in the form of a receipt.

Taylor left Warren Friday, announcing that he was going to a meeting of the Niagara Life insurance company in Buffalo.

Monday First Vice President John E. Dalton and other directors became alarmed about affairs of the bank and that night they forced the safe deposit box where the bank kept its securities. At ten o'clock Monday night the remaining five of the directors were called into conference.

It was decided to notify the national bank authorities and Chief Examiner Norwin R. Bean and Examiner Black left Boston at four o'clock Tuesday morning for this place. Department of Justice agents left Springfield on the first train and they were quickly followed by a small army of private detectives.

Early Wednesday morning a notice was placed on the door of the bank stating that it had been closed by the directors and is now in charge of the bank examiners. Bank examiners heard the report of the directors regarding the affairs of the bank.

LUMBER DEALERS TALK BUILDING IN SMALL TOWN

The financing of home building projects, especially in towns of less than 10,000 persons, was the most important question discussed yesterday at the opening session of the thirty-third annual convention of the Illinois Lumber Merchants' association in the Congress hotel. The association has already endorsed the national home building campaign, and it is probable that drastic resolutions will be adopted before the convention adjourns tomorrow night.

"The biggest question now confronting the lumbermen," said E. M. Stollar, banker and lumberman from Warren, Ill., "is the question of financing the building of homes. Persons contemplating the building of homes can usually take care of the purchase of the property and the payment of the labor costs, but it is the material man who must wait for his money."

WOMAN SOUGHT AFTER HE LOSES CHECK FOR $7,340

A "mystery woman" was being sought last night to explain circumstances surrounding an assault upon Bertha K. Meyers, assistant to the president of the Great Western Smelting and Refining company, 600 West 41st street.

Meyers was found early yesterday morning by a Yellow Cab driver in a dazed condition at Sacramento and Grand avenues. He told of being struck over the head by unknown assailants and robbed of jewelry and a $7,340 check drawn by the City of Chicago in favor of his firm.

He said he had spent several hours during the evening at the Venetian cafe, Chicago and Kedzie avenues, and despite information given police, he insisted he had no woman with him.

Let Down Council Bars for Legion's Tag Day

Breaking its rule that all requests for tag days shall be sent to the finance committee, the city council yesterday authorized a tag day to be conducted by the American Legion on April 25. The money raised is to be turned over to the widows and orphans of soldiers killed in the world war and to the families of men who are being treated in hospitals.

GERMANY'S NEW LOAN BASED ON YANKEE DOLLAR

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—[Tribune Radio.]—The $50,000,000 gold loan which has been promised by the finance ministry before March 1 is regarded here as a definite attempt to meet the terms laid down by the committee of international experts for stabilizing the mark in order that Germany may enter any conference with France over the Ruhr with clean hands.

The entire loan will be based on the United States dollar and subscribed in foreign currency. It is hoped that it will have the triple effect of keeping the mark somewhere around its present rate, provide a safe investment for holders of foreign currency, and enable the German government to get its hands on large sums of foreign currency.

The project offers one more indication that Germany would welcome negotiations to settle the situation in the Ruhr. If the loan is successful it probably will be repeated, as it will make speculation, which is rife throughout the German middle classes, almost negligible.

TURKS IN SECRET SESSION DEBATE NEAR EAST PEACE

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

ANGORA, Feb. 21.—Behind closed doors the grand national assembly heard the report of Ismet Pasha on the rupture of the Lausanne conference and recommendations that the Angora government insist on fulfillment of the national pact.

Such secrecy surrounded the deliberations in the humble one story structure where the meeting was held, that it was impossible to know whether Ismet was bellicose or conciliatory towards the allied offer. However, it seems certain that Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Ismet Pasha, Hassan Pasha, and Ferit Pasha have agreed on a general program which the assembly will be called into accepting.

BATTLE RAGES IN HEART OF DUBLIN; CROWDS IN PANIC

Rebels Make Sortie from Hills; Two Killed.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—[United News.]—Rebels broke from their hiding places, swooped down on Dublin and plunged the city into a crowded half hour of warfare this afternoon.

Advancing somewhat after the fashion of Indians on a peaceful settlement, rebel bands from the Dublin mountains joined other irregulars who had stowed themselves away in the Irish capital during the night.

The enemies of the free state fired pistols and rifles as they advanced through the streets toward the center of the city.

Crowds on Street in Panic.

Panic broke out. Control was lost of traffic and horses and autos ran in all directions. Women shrieked and fainted. Scores of people, not knowing what else to do, threw themselves face downward on the sidewalks and in the gutters. Others scurried for cover.

Snipers from tall buildings began firing on the crowd; free state marksmen began aiming at the advancing rebels. Rebel snipers tried to tell free state troops who came rushing from barracks when the war call was sounded.

The attack, principally, was aimed against public buildings of the free state. Windows were shattered and doors smashed in the city hall.

Hand to Hand Fighting.

Before free state soldiers in large numbers could reach the scene, papers were removed from the public buildings or destroyed.

Hand to hand fighting broke out in the shadow of the Dublin Theological seminary, where Eamon de Valera, the leader, who apparently engineered the attack, used to have a chair as professor.

Finally, the free state soldiers greatly outnumbered the rebels, who hastily retreated after two of their number had been slain and a number wounded on both sides.

Fear Further Attacks.

This is the first serious fighting that has broken out since the expiration of the free state amnesty offer on Sunday. It is believed by authorities that the concentrated attack was launched by Mr. de Valera to prove to the government that the cause of the Irish republic had not collapsed merely because a few rebels had availed themselves of the opportunity of surrendering their arms and going free.

It is feared in official circles that the sudden attack presages the breaking out of internecine warfare in other parts of Ireland.

BIG COUNTERFEIT PLOT HALTED BY WHOLESALE RAID

64 Arrested from Gang of 1,000 in U. S.

New York, Feb. 21.—Secret service operatives today rounded up sixty-four counterfeiters involved in a plot whereby between $1,000,000 and $16,000,000 in spurious money has been dumped into the trading marts of many nations.

A nation-wide hunt is being carried on for the capture of 1,000 members of a gang which maintained its headquarters in a basement in the Italian quarter of New York.

Arrest Bares Plot.

The plot was bare after the capture last night of three men alleged by the authorities to be the leaders of an organization with international ramifications and the discovery of the printing presses which turned out hundreds of thousands of United States $2, $5, $10 and $20 bills, American silver quarters and gold pieces.

Raids in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Long Island City and New Jersey resulted in twenty-eight arrests in the last twenty-four hours and ended successfully an eight months' search for the international gang leaders.

Spurious Money Found.

The raided places were found, Palma said, stocked with bundles of $110,000 in counterfeit American money, tens of thousands of dollars' worth of postage stamps, whisky labels, revenue stamps and bogus coins.

The headquarters and manufacturing plant of the gang, Palma reported, was in a basement at 29 Cornelia street, in the heart of Greenwich village.

Secret agents of the German government are riding through the Ruhr in automobiles, attempting to capture the workers to continue campaign of scientific sabotage. Agents are charged with inciting the workers to strike.

As a means of catching the French Paul Reveres, the French police are strict guard over all.

The French continued to move troops of minor officials in the Ruhr and Essen today.

The German boycott here again was a failure. German workers were riding on French trains and adding the French to unload German propaganda stating a scarcity of food in this district.

The French are also organizing the rail and transport of occupied Germany and are prepared to insure international food supply trains for the French.

In these words Gen. Payot, communications of the French occupation government, up the line of three weeks efforts to organize of transportation essential success of the French plan in the Ruhr.

The general received the French correspondent in his Düsseldorf quarters and explained his satisfaction with the situation that he was ensnared in direct to Düsseldorf to Treves and gathered he was disappointed. British were unable to get further than withdraw their men from this line, but that he considered his main essential had been obtained out from the Ruhr to prepared for coal transport.

"We were told yesterday were prepared to handle for 200 coal trains daily," was asked this exact?

To this the general replied: "Three weeks of efforts and negotiations are prepared to handle the transport of coal. With French main workers and those German have not left their posts we have sufficient personnel to meet all the requirements. We now have thirty-four in service on the night for service in harbors and of river transport."

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 21.—(By The Chicago Tribune.)
The French have organized the rail and water transport of occupied Germany that it may be prepared to insure international trade and supply trains for troops and civilians and train for coal and necessary military communications.

In these words Gen. Payot, chief of communications of the French army, said in a speech at the Ruhr. HOLD UP CASHIER ON 11TH FLOOR IN LA SALLE ST.

Three young men, all armed with revolvers, late yesterday entered the offices of the Commercial Guaranty company on the eighth floor of the Lumber Exchange building, 11 South La Salle street, held up the official cashier of the company, rifled the cash drawer of $1,000 in currency, and escaped down the stairs.

J. H. Sanderson, manager of the company, threw other occupants of the floor into confusion for some time when he followed the men to the door and fired several shots after them as they escaped. Police from the Central detail, who arrived a few minutes after the robbery, searched the building to no avail.

Mr. Sanderson told the police that C. A. Roofs, president of the concern, Fred Dodson, cashier, and one patron of the concern were in the offices when the robbers entered.

PLAN NEW SANCTIONS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Feb. 21.—France is preparing new sanctions in Germany, if the Ruhr resistance continues.

Premier Theunis of Belgium, at a luncheon with Premier Poincare, today approved on behalf of his government of the additional military measures which Marshal Foch has planned to bring Germany to its knees.

The complete closing of the occupied territories to Germany will be one of the first operations. This will amount to a blockade of Germany, such as which proved so efficacious during the war.

The seizure of the Danzig-Vilna railway by Poland closes the eastern markets to Germany, including its chief customer, Russia, and the low rates of exchange have shut the doors to German commerce in south and central Europe; the Balkans, and the near east.

Will Issue Special Money.
MM. Theunis and Poincare agreed on the necessity of issuing special paper money in the Ruhr and Rhineland which will be guaranteed by requisition bonds put out by the reparations commission and held against the German government.

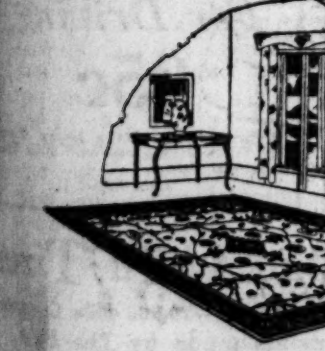

The railways in the Rhineland and the Ruhr are to be operated under French civil administration. French and Belgian civil workmen will be substituted for troops and Germans.

Preparations have been announced for reinforcements to the army of occupation in view of the disbandment of the German police. The new troops will be used in maintaining order in the district.

CARAWAY SAYS HARDING FACES SLANDER SUITS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, said today that information had been given him that some of the twenty-eight bureau of printing and engraving employees dismissed about a year ago by order of President Harding had decided to bring suit against the President for defamation of character.

The senator, who has been waging a fight in the senate in half of the dismissed employees, said he had been told authoritatively that several of the former employees had engaged counsel and intended instituting proceedings in a District of Columbia court some time before the statute of limitations expires March 21.

ROGERS OUTLINES BEAUTIES SOUGHT IN N. U. PROJECT

Conforms to City Plan,
Architect Says.

An imposing tower building, rising just east of Michigan avenue, on Chicago avenue, overlooking an inclosed campus stretching down to the lake and the outer arm of Lake Shore drive, and housing under one roof a medical school, a dental school, a mammoth teaching hospital, and two large auditoriums—the best equipped medical center of learning in the middle west.

That is the way James Gamble Rogers, architect for Northwestern university, yesterday described the proposed $10,000,000 Alexander McKinlock Memorial campus project to more than a hundred guests who attended a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. George A. McKinlock at the Casino club.

Before going to the Casino club, where drawings of the new buildings were on display, Mr. Rogers spoke of the advantages which will accrue to Chicago from this first skyscraper university other than its educational aspects.

Step in Chicago Plan.

"That a university here in Chicago should plan such a beautiful project on such broad lines is but another evidence of the fully aroused civic consciousness of this city," he declared.

"It is but another step at beautiful addition in accordance with the Chicago plan. The recent competition conducted by THE TRIBUNE and the magnificent building which it proposes to build are other evidences of what Chicago is doing to make it one of the greatest cities architecturally in the world."

And the new Northwestern group will serve another purpose. It will cause the outer drive to be used more than it is now. It will result in other beautiful buildings being erected on that magnificent arm of the city's boulevard system, increase property values all through the growing north side business section, and add to the desirability of that neighborhood also as a residential section."

May Not Meet Demands.

At the Casino club Mr. Rogers, who designed the famous Harkness Memorial Quadrangle at Yale and other distinctive university buildings, expressed the one fear that the contemplated structure, huge as it may seem, may prove not to be big enough to meet the growing needs of Northwestern.

In speaking of the close proximity of the proposed medical departments, Mr. Rogers said:

"This is important, because there are needed throughout this broad country a number of medical centers, and if we can make this the most efficient and complete medical center of Northwestern, it will be a great step in the effort of the Northwestern university when it tries to make this the best medical center in the middle west."

"You will note that I have built right across Superior street. I dared do this because Chicago is now becoming known throughout the world for its interest in civic improvements. As Chicago has such a record for public improvement, I have assumed that it would be only a matter of explaining our sincerity to obtain from the authorities permission to close up the end of a nontraffic street to make possible a monument that would be of permanent improvement to the city."

Huge Medical Center.

"This plot plan shows the general arrangement of the property, which is, broadly speaking, a huge medical center rising many stories in the air with a complete elevator service. The other two schools—law and commerce—would be located in low three story buildings, nestling at the base of this high portion, just as the priest's or bishop's home and office nestle so picturesquely against the great cathedral."

"These buildings, with the future additions, such as dormitories, commons, and gymnasium, would surround on three sides McKinlock campus, the athletic field, which would be open on the east. In other words, the view entrance would be from Lake Shore drive and the business entrance would be from Chicago avenue."

Mr. Rogers then described the proposed new group of women's buildings for the Evanston campus, explaining the difference in style of architecture as suited to suburban surroundings.

Illinois Student Center.

President Walter Dill Scott also spoke, pointing out that Illinois alone now numbers more students than all the New England states put together.

He expressed the ambition that the spirit which will be typified by the greater Northwestern center of higher learning will be that of the spirit of service rather than the spirit of gain.

Among those who viewed the exhibit at the Casino club and attended Mr. Rogers' lecture and the reception and tea that followed were Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McBirney, Mrs. John Scott, Frank Crane, Charles Pike, Tiffany Blake, Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, Charles L. Strobel, Mrs. Thomas Marston, R. Hall McCormick, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Mrs. Henry M. Tuttle, John V. Farwell, Kellogg Fairbank, Angus Hibbard, and David R. Forgan.

Design of Yale Club.

Among the more notable buildings designed by Mr. Rogers were the Yale club in New York, the school of education and manual training school at the University of Chicago, the women's buildings at Tufts university, post-offices at New Orleans and New Haven, courthouse at Memphis, and the Engineering societies' building in New York. While here Mr. Rogers also conferred with the trustees of the Western Theological seminary relative to plans for a new group of buildings which that institution proposes to erect in Evanston. The plans are still too embryonic in form.

FOUR HELD FOR MURDER IN RUM DEATH OF WOMAN

Four men were held without bail for murder yesterday when Capt. Morgan Collins, following an investigation into the death of Mrs. Katherine Thompson, 86, 544 North Clark street, declared the woman died of moonshine poisoning.

Mrs. Thompson died after a drinking orgy in her flat. The four held are Vincent Cutala, 327 Milton street; George Romano, 350 West Chestnut street; Frank Walters, 541 North Wells street; and Walter Skinner, La Grange.

The inquest into Mrs. Thompson's death is to be reopened on March 21.

Cutala is characterized by the police as the "master bootlegger" of the north side Italian colony, and Romano is his alleged partner in the manufacture of the poison booze.

Thompson's companions in the drinking party which ended in her death. Moonshine was also declared to be a "contributing cause" for the death of Arthur M. Morse, a blacksmith.

LIVED MONTHS AS 'WIFE' OF WOMAN; DIDN'T KNOW IT

Girl Seeks Annulment on Learning Mate's Sex.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21.—On the ground that her "husband" was a woman, Miss Blanche M. Hughes of East Orange has started suit in chancery court for an annulment of her marriage.

According to her petition "a person known to her as William J. Houston" is her "husband." The papers filed in her behalf speak of her as having been "falsely called Blanche M. Houston."

Lived in Two Cities.

The two were married April 23, 1920, by John Quinly, deputy clerk in Brooklyn. They went through another marriage ceremony, which was performed on June 28, 1920, by the Rev. John O'Dowd, curate of St. Theresa's church, Brooklyn. The two lived for a time in Brooklyn, and later in Detroit.

The papers state that in Detroit on Dec. 6, 1920, Miss Hughes was requested "by her supposed husband" to leave him and return to her parents. She did, and she declares that from that time she has not seen Houston or heard of "him."

What Petition Says.

"Your petitioner believed at the time of the supposed marriage to the said William J. Houston," says the petition, "that he was of the male sex and that William J. Houston entered into such marriage contract with the said Blanche M. Houston as a male."

Your petitioner has been informed and verily believes that William J. Houston, while holding himself out to your petitioner as a person of the male sex, was, in fact, a normal person of the female sex."

Miss Hughes never discovered for herself that her husband was a woman. William Cobb, attorney for Miss Hughes, said. She now claims to have affidavits from physicians to prove her erstwhile husband is a female.

COURT UPHOLDS ANTI-FRAT LAW IN HIGH SCHOOL

The right of school boards to bar members of high school fraternities from institutions under their jurisdiction was upheld by the State Supreme court yesterday in a case brought against the Springfield board of education by one of fifty-eight students threatened with expulsion from the Springfield High school for his membership in a Greek letter society.

Other decisions of the court held that section of the motor vehicle law requiring taxicab companies to furnish $10,000 bond and the law allowing all employees time off, with pay, in which to vote, to be unconstitutional.

No action was taken on the medical practices act of 1899, under which Dr. Robert Schaeffer, Chicago osteopath, was fined for practicing operative surgery.

I AM DR. JACK

On this day, of all others, I cannot tell a lie.

I have asked Chicago doctors to investigate my claim. If they condemn me before investigating they are not scientific. If they will look into my cures, I guarantee to convince each and every one of them I have "Nature's Finest Remedy" to cure the sick, the near sick and the healthy.

I am not a Doctor Coue, but my patients get better and better every day.

JUST RECEIVED IN OUR NEW HIGH-SCHOOL SECTION—

"First-Long" Suits

With Two Pairs of Trousers

$35 and $45

THE new Third Floor Section for High-School Students has certainly made a hit with the fellows. It's perfectly natural for them to want to get their clothes where their fathers, their older brothers, and such a crowd of college men buy theirs.

They've found out they can get the same kind of grown-up service as the others, and the snappy styles high-school students want.

New three- and four-button sack Suits on the latest lines and smart sport models have just come in. They're in tweed mixtures, stripes, diagonals, and other fancy and popular weaves. Every Suit carries an extra pair of Trousers.

ALDERMAN RACE THREATENS MANY SECOND BALLOTS

Decisive Vote Unlikely in Several Wards.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

In three wards there is the last twenty years have the voters had as many candidates from whom to select aldermen as they have in the overwhelming majority of the wards this year. The opportunity is extraordinary.

One result will be that in twelve to twenty wards no candidate for alderman will get a majority of the votes cast Feb. 27. This will force a second aldermanic election in those wards when the next mayor of Chicago is elected in April. The struggle will be waged out and the two high men will fight it out at the later contest.

The first sixteen wards are perhaps typical of the entire city. In these it is almost certain that second elections will be held in four wards and there are four or five other wards in which the prospect of a second heat is good.

Final Results in Six.
In only six wards out of the sixteen does it now seem certain that the first election will be final.
In three wards there is a nominal or no contest. In the Thirteenth ward Ald. McDonough has no opponent whatever. In the Fourth ward Ald. Schwartz has only James E. Edgewood, a dentist, who is not expected to get many votes. Both of these aldermen have the endorsement of the Municipal Voters' league and the better city council committee. In the First ward Ald. John J. Coughlin wins without expense.

The Second and Third wards will probably have colored representatives. Ald. Louis H. Anderson, colored floor leader for Mayor Thompson, in the Second ward insists he will win on the first ballot day, and it is generally conceded that he will be one of the two high men. The Municipal Voters' league suggested Cornelius P. Stradford, or T. Arnold Hill, while the better city council committee favored the former. Opponents of the alderman are attempting to prevent him from winning Feb. 27.

Brown Opposes Jackson.
It is in the cards in the Third ward for Ald. Robert E. Jackson to get a seat in the council. He, too, is colored and moved from the old Second to the new Third ward. His strongest opponent is Charles F. Brown, endorsed by the M. V. L. and the Democratic organization in the ward. He is white. The ward is substantially Republican.

In the Eighteenth, Ninth, Tenth, and Sixteenth wards a second aldermanic election seems ahead. The Eighth has fourteen candidates and no alderman at present. William D. Myerling was endorsed by the Municipal Voters' league. He was defeated by both France and the United States for his war services during which he was wounded. But he is not expected to run away with the prize on the first tryout.

Dosen Candidates in Tenth.
The Tenth ward has no alderman at present, but has a dozen candidates. Of these four do not appear to be showing any strength. The other eight are more or less aggressive. Of these Alfred O'Connor, endorsed by the M. V. L., exhibits the most pep. He is a newby, who, from his route, by his way through the University of Chicago and studied law. He has declined to attach himself to any of the various political factions of the ward. Former Ald. Ernest M. Rosen has been making a vigorous campaign to come back, and John T. Meagher, endorsed by the Democrats, has been unusually active.

In the Sixteenth ward there are nine candidates, of whom two are sitting aldermen, Terence F. Moran and Scott M. Hogan. Both were turned down by the M. V. L. for Clarence N. Bergstrom, a lawyer, who has been president of the West Englewood Business Men's association. It does not seem possible that any one will get a majority of all votes cast in that ward.

Of the first sixteen, there are three wards where Feb. 27 looks like the final day. One of these is the Eleventh ward, where the contest is really between Ald. John A. Richter and Ald. Timothy A. Hogan. Because of his long and valuable services as chairman of the finance committee, the M. V. L. urges reelection of Richter.

O'Toole Expected to Win.
The Fourteenth ward is another contest limited to the first day. Ald. William R. O'Toole, by the ordinary rules of the game, should win easily, but Michael J. Costello, stockyard man, has the endorsement of the M. V. L.

CANADA'S ECONOMIC STRUGGLE

1—The coal shortage has become so acute and the weather is so severe that the value of the electric output of a St. Lawrence deep waterway to the ocean is becoming more clear to Canada. The proposed waterway is a thirty-three mile stretch of improved channel above Montreal that would develop several million horse power of electricity as well as furnish a navigable channel.

2—The Cape Breton mines are inadequate for even local needs, and eastern Canada must import coal from this country.

3—Western Canada has several coal deposits, but finds it more profitable to sell to the western United States than to transport the fuel by rail and water to the eastern provinces.

POLITICAL NOTES

A reorganization of the Republican forces in the Fortyecond ward was disclosed yesterday by an announcement that all factional groups in the ward had joined in a meeting at the North Side Turner hall, where resolutions endorsing Arthur C. Lueder were adopted.

Among a large group of lawyers that called on Lueder at his headquarters yesterday were two women members of the bar, Ada Cartwright and Francis E. Spooner. Some of the men were Louis J. Behan, George W. Miller, Edward Godman, Walter E. Beebe, William Carr Steele, Frank B. Teed, Ransom Walker, and Harry P. Weber.

Bernard P. Barasa and Rodolfo Valentino will speak at the Press club this noon. Valentino, a movie star, also will be at the Barasa headquarters at the Briggs house during the afternoon.

Among Lueder's endorsements by men prominent in national groups was a letter from Edward J. Preble, Warsaw and of the Democratic opponents of O'Toole.

Six candidates are in the field in the Fifteenth ward, but friends of Ald. Thomas P. Byrne think he can beat the other five on the first day.

It is not so certain in the remaining four wards of the first sixteen. Ald. Guy. Guernsey and Rosa A. Woodhull were members of the committee which investigated the pet experts of the administration. The former is the leading candidate for alderman in the Sixth ward. He has six opponents.

In the Seventh ward Ald. Woodhull is also reasonably certain to continue in the council, but he has five opponents, of whom Lester V. Bratton, salesman, is probably the best advertised. Both Woodhull and Guernsey have the endorsement of the M. V. L.

Also Charles E. Eaton is the Fifth ward's present alderman. A man more experienced in politics than the alderman asserted, his opposition is not so threatening as the alderman thinks it is, but it is scattered among seven opponents.

Second Election Forecast.
A second election in the Twelfth ward seems probable. The fight originally was between Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy and William J. Gormley of the forest preserve district, but now it is said that Mulcahy does not appear so strong as Ernest J. Kuntzmann.

Mulcahy attempted at the last aldermanic election to put Ald. McDonough out of the city council. The latter had to run and was defeated. Mulcahy could retain his seat without winning and did. The city hall administration did not like McDonough because he stood against it, and Mulcahy was persuaded to attempt to put McDonough back into private life. It is a good bet that Mulcahy will not be re-elected, even if he should run second next Tuesday, because the plan involves the passage of a state law which would permit the issuance of special assessment paper payable in installments over a period of five to fifty years. Under the present law special assessment paper may not run more than five years.

Situation Is Unusual.
There have been years frequently in the last twenty when there were not as many real contests in the entire city as have been indicated in the first sixteen of the fifty wards this year. It has been more than two decades since the voters had so many candidates from which to choose, although in some wards there have been occasions when the voters had a choice between better candidates than are now submitted. It is the first time in a score of years when there was any complaint about too many candidates, although that complaint now is well founded.

Ald. Mulcahy to Greet Gov. Parker of Louisiana.
Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana, who sponsored the investigation of Ku Klux Klan activities in Morhouse parish, will be welcomed to Chicago Monday by an aldermanic committee headed by Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy. Gov. Parker will address a meeting at the Coliseum Monday evening. His subject will be the Klan.

CHILLED CANADA WAKES TO VALUE OF OCEAN CANAL

U.S. Coal Shortage Causes
Search for Heat.

BY CHARLES BISHOP.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The shortage of coal in Canada this winter, made the more acute by recurrent cold waves and the aggressive tactics of Congressman Rogers of Massachusetts and others who would embargo American exports of coal to this country, is giving rise to a wide demand for a declaration of Canadian independence as regards fuel.

The dominion government is turning its attention not only to its coal resources, but also to its immense unused stores of hydro-electric energy.

To Electrify Railway.
It is proposed to electrify the National railway system wherever economically possible, thus effecting a saving in coal, and generally to utilize electricity where it can replace coal for heating or industrial purposes.

This, incidentally, involves a strong argument for Canadian participation in the great lake-coastal waterway scheme, which would develop several millions of horse power from the St. Lawrence river alone. Figures establishing that the resultant revenue would "carry" Canada's investment stimulate participation in this great international enterprise.

Board Studies Coal Issue.
Instead of looking so much to the United States for coal, the present plans are to develop domestic resources which exist in abundance, though the coal is all bituminous. There is no Canadian anthracite.

Demands for a policy of self-reliance are being made in the house of commons this session and the government has created a commission of fuel experts to advise upon the situation.

While the balance of the coal trade is largely in favor of the United States there is a certain measure of reciprocity. In 1922, Canada imported from the United States, 2,515,014 tons of anthracite valued at $22,042,554, and 7,734,041 tons of bituminous valued at $34,305,560. In the same period, this country exported to the States 1,419,788 tons of soft coal with a valuation of $8,252,985. It went to the New England and far western states.

Economy in U. S. Trade.
Ontario and Quebec have procured both brands of coal from Pennsylvania because it is nearer, and American operators, who have always cultivated the Canadian market, are able to quote rates with which the more remote Canadian mines cannot compete because of long hauls and high freight rates.

Today the yard engines in Vera Cruz stopped work to save oil. This seems probable. The fight originally was between Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy and William J. Gormley of the forest preserve district, but now it is said that Mulcahy does not appear so strong as Ernest J. Kuntzmann.

Mulcahy attempted at the last aldermanic election to put Ald. McDonough out of the city council. The latter had to run and was defeated. Mulcahy could retain his seat without winning and did. The city hall administration did not like McDonough because he stood against it, and Mulcahy was persuaded to attempt to put McDonough back into private life. G. O. P. WOMEN RAISE ROOF AT LUEDER RALLY

Sherman Hotel Luncheon
Attended by 1,000.

BY PARKE BROWN.

More than 1,000 Republican women gathered at a luncheon yesterday in the Sherman hotel to boom the mayoral candidacy of Arthur C. Lueder. Political leaders present said it was the largest affair of the kind they ever saw. The crowd filled the tiger room, the crystal room, and the gray room. When Candidate Lueder appeared, the cheering was almost undignified.

Reviews of the candidates were given by Charles S. Denen, who was the first speaker. "I think this is the largest political luncheon I have ever attended," he said. "It is certainly the largest in the history of the city. And in this campaign the enthusiasm has come up from the precincts rather than from the headquarters. That is as it should be."

Mr. Denen had those forces agreed upon Mr. Lueder," he continued, "that the importance of this development was recognized generally. And one of the first to appreciate the situation was Mayor Thompson. He withdrew from the race."

That ended the campaign so far as the past is concerned. The people have indicated their belief that we ought to discuss what is to be done in the future, and so we now have a positive, constructive campaign. The big issue in the character of the candidates and the character of the men he would gather around him in his administration."

He told of the solidarity of his own group and the feeling among regular Republicans in favor of unification of the party.

Compared to McKinley.

The Rev. John P. Foster, pastor of Lueder's church, told of the youth of the candidate, of his development into manhood, and compared him with the late President McKinley.

"I am not a bit doubtful as to the success," he said, "and we'll have a great man and a big man of those fine qualities that characterized McKinley as a character of all good men."

Mr. Lueder, president of the Lueder club, praised the clean cut campaign being made by Lueder and expressed regret all candidates for public office do not refrain from "mud slinging."

"We are proud to follow Lueder," he said, "because we know he is going to make the public schools a good place to send our children, because we who have to come down town and go home again hanging to straps and conditions that are indecent to our children, and because we know he is going to do big things."

Lueder spoke briefly emphasizing

SCHWAB FAVORS WORLD BOARD TO UNTANGLE RUHR

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(Tribune Radio.)—"The only possible solution of the present situation in the Ruhr is the establishment of an international commission to determine just what Germany can pay and how. I am sure that America would consent to be a party to such a commission."

Mr. Schwab said it was his opinion that France had not gone about it in the right way to get reparations from Germany. He asserted it was a mistake to say American industries would be benefited by the occupation of the Ruhr.

"Americans never were so poor," Mr. Schwab continued. "The war wealth of America mainly was fictitious and all the vast sums accumulated during the war were more than lost in the deflation following."

Whether the President will consent to such a course remains to be seen, but senators believe that, in view of his experience as a member of the senate and his knowledge of parliamentary tactics in the upper house, he will acknowledge the wisdom of their advice.

Mr. Schwab said he has been kept at home by a severe cold since last Saturday. Attorney General Brundage issued a statement commenting on Edward R. Litsinger's recent challenge to debate.

Litsinger is afflicted with a delusion that he is really a majority possibility," it read in part. "If he finds that the only way he can get a crowd is to have some one debate with him, why doesn't he challenge Judge Baras?"

"The subject of his candidacy can be disposed of speedily. When Litsinger joined in inviting Mr. Lueder to be a candidate, when he took part in Lueder conferences and helped select the Lueder executive committee—he bound himself by the recognized code of honor to support Mr. Lueder. And now he is Mr. Lueder's only willer. What could be expected from him as mayor? But there is no danger."

SENATE RECESS GIVES SHIP FOES CHANCE TO REST

Day Ends with Filibuster
Still Going Strong.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—With the filibuster against the ship subsidy bill holding tight in the senate and a filibuster developed in the house over the legislative program, with the Cape Cod canal purchase bill as the obstruction, congress is rapidly getting itself into a legislative knot that will be hard to untangle before March 4.

The ship subsidy filibusters remain in control of the situation tonight, the senate having recessed until tomorrow morning when Senator Jones (Rep., Wash.), will renew his motion to get the subsidy bill again before the body for consideration.

Just before recess was taken the army appropriation bill with its $56,000,000 rivers and harbors pork provision, was placed before the senate and approved with minor amendments to be cleared up in a later conference. Then Senator Jones offered his motion but when the filibusters carried a recess proposal, it automatically went over until morning when subsidy opponents will seek to vote it down and again displace subsidy by taking up the G. I. bill.

Both sides hung on grimly through the day, but Republican leaders admitted privately that if the filibuster showed no signs of abating within the next day or two the subsidy was doomed.

If the filibuster does not wear out by Saturday night leaders are planning to lay the situation before President Harding and ask him to give his consent to abandonment of the subsidy in order that other pressing legislation may be enacted in the remaining week of the session. They will endeavor to convince him that they have done everything humanly possible to bring the subsidy to a vote, and that further efforts to combat the filibuster would only result in the blocking of measures which should be passed before the expiration of the present congress.

President's Course in Doubt.

Whether the President will consent to such a course remains to be seen, but senators believe that, in view of his experience as a member of the senate and his knowledge of parliamentary tactics in the upper house, he will acknowledge the wisdom of their advice. The time killing talk went on today with the regularity of a self-winding phonograph. When the senate convened at 11 o'clock, Senator Reed (Dem., Mo.) took the floor again and concluded his long speech favoring American acquisition of the British and French West Indian possessions. After he had finished, Senator Lodge (Rep., Ind.) spoke several hours, favoring American recognition of the Russian soviet government. Although his speech served the purpose of the filibuster, it was of a bona fide character and drew a reply from Senator Lodge (Rep., Mass.), Republican leader, explaining why the administration had adhered to the Wilsonian policy of non-recognition.

Lodge Speech Aids Subsidy Foes.

Senator Lodge's speech drew gleeful choruses from the filibusters. They regarded the speech as an aid from an unexpected source.

The debate was enlivened for a few moments by a sharp dispute over the

REPRIEVED

JAMES A. SMITH.

A reprieve until May 25 was last night granted to James H. Smith, sentenced to hang in Chicago tomorrow for the murder of Frank O'Connell, a cigar store keeper, whom he shot during a holdup. Gov. Small granted the stay of execution on the recommendation of the state division of pardons and paroles.

The ninety day stay was granted by the governor to permit Smith's attorneys to present additional evidence. Telegrams received from Chicago by Gov. Small indicated that the new evidence favoring Smith had been disclosed. It is said. He pleaded guilty before Judge Marcus Kavanaugh, and his accomplices, who also confessed, were sentenced to life imprisonment.

number of British subjects hanged by "Old Hickory" Jackson when he invaded Florida. Senator Williams claimed that Jackson hanged three.

"That is a very important point and ought to be cleared up," interrupted Senator Stanley (Dem., Ky.). "My recollection is that only two were hanged."

"Well, 'Old Hickory' would have hanged a lot more if they'd given him time," said Senator Williams. The filibusters were standing the year and a half of the long debate without signs of fatigue. They appeared to be so well organized and seemed to have their plans so well arranged that talkers had plenty of time to rest and get ready to do another round. As a matter of fact, up to the present time they have been using only understudies and they are still holding their marathon talkers in reserve.

ASKS HARDING TO GIVE WOMEN DRY AGENTS DISTRICT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania, suggested to President Harding today that he try the experiment of placing some district in the United States in the hands of women prohibition agents. She said Mr. Harding had promised to take up the proposal with Commissioner Haynes.

Mrs. Pinchot's suggestion was that some country district be selected for the experiment. She proposed that talkers had plenty of time to rest and get ready to do another round. As a matter of fact, up to the present time they have been using only understudies and they are still holding their marathon talkers in reserve.

It would be necessary for a few men to remain "for such work as women could not do."

TENEMENT HALL YIELDS HEIRESS TO LEEDS RICHES

Girl Once Foundling Gets Millions in Will.

New York, Feb. 21.—In a fashionable school for girls, Joy Louise Leeds, 9 years old, today received her first lesson in long division.

During the same hour the will of Mrs. Louise Harthorne Leeds, Joy's foster mother, who recently met death in a plunge from an upper window of her home, was filed for probate at Mineola, revealing that Joy had been bequeathed $250,000, a fortune in jewelry, and, upon the death of her foster father, Warner Leeds, a first income from a $2,000,000 estate.

The filing of the will was the second event of Mrs. Leeds' life. The first occurred something more than eight years ago, when a poor woman walking through a dark east side tenement hallway stumbled on a bundle. It was a baby girl. The woman called police and the child was taken to Bellevue hospital.

She Adopts Foundling.

Bent on a charitable mission, Mrs. Leeds, kind hearted society woman, visited the hospital. She came attached to the winsome little child and adopted it.

Joy Louise is a coy miss, with black curly hair and black, laughing eyes. She loves to sing, and would rather go strolling in Central park than ride on the soft cushions of a limousine.

"Joy's greatest attribute," said her foster father, "is that she is just a regular little girl with a big heart." The fact that her parents are unknown will not turn her head.

Asks Her Be Charitable.

The bequest to Joy Louise was followed by the following paragraph: "It is my desire that my daughter be educated in an atmosphere of culture and among people of refinement, and that she get the best instruction in those accomplishments for which she manifests an aptitude. I am especially anxious that her mind be directed toward the conditions and needs of the human family that she may become interested and train intelligently in the beneficent work."

Warner M. Leeds, the child's adopted father, is named guardian of her person and estate. He is a brother of the late William B. Leeds, "tin plate king," who was Princess Anastasia's first husband.

Klan Imperial Giant to Face Trial on March 20

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 21.—E. J. Clarke, imperial giant, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, indicted for using the mails to defraud, will go on trial here on March 20 in the United States district court. It was announced late today. Mr. Clarke was indicted on complaint of a number of men said to have been formerly connected with the Klan organization, claiming that he collected excessive fees for the purpose of paying bonding fees of Klan employees.

RAID SALT LAKE CITY HOTEL AND ARREST SMOKERS

Officers Kept Busy at State Capital.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 21.—Smoking in public places in Salt Lake City isn't proving a safe pastime these days with deputy sheriffs arresting violators of that section of the state anti-cigarette law which prohibits smoking in any form, in restaurants, public buildings or the like.

Deputy Sheriff Michael Maus, one of the leaders in the present smoker clean-up campaign, is president of the No Tobacco league of Utah.

The grill room of the Hotel Utah was raided by deputies today and four men, including J. E. Jones, manager for the Western Newspaper union, were taken into custody. Other deputies were active at the state capitol building where five arrests were made.

Prominent Citizens Arrested.

Yesterday four of Salt Lake's most prominent citizens, A. N. McKay, Ernest Rumberger, Edgar Newhouse, and John C. Lynch, were arrested for smoking.

Bamburgh, a mining man and Republican candidate for United States senator in the November election; Lynch, capitalist and Republican politician, and Edgar Newhouse, mining man, were taken into custody as they were having their after dinner smoke in a restaurant on Main street. McKay, general manager of the Salt Lake Tribune, was served with a warrant later in the day on the ground that he had lighted a cigar before leaving the restaurant dining room.

Pleads Not Guilty.

The Tribune's general manager was in city court this morning and a not guilty plea was entered. His trial was set for Feb. 23.

E. C. Callister, member of the assembly of the Utah legislature, appeared before Judge Pratt as attorney for Bamburgh, Lynch and Newhouse. He requested further time to plead and continuance until next Friday was granted.

TODAY'S TONGUE-TWISTER

Roos' Restaurant's Regal Repasts Receive Rapid Recognition.

The twist in the above statement isn't in the words—it's in the meaning. Because it is absolutely true that day by day, more and more folks are coming back again and again for my famous $1.00 dinner. "How can you serve such high quality food, in such liberal portions, with such perfect attention and service?" is a question I am asked many times every day. The answer is simple. A volume of business always cuts the price whether its food or automobiles. For lunch. You get the same quality food, the same attention that you get at night, except it's all a la carte. All your favorite dishes are on the menu—and many new ones too. And my same reasonable prices hold good.

If You Are in a Hurry Haven't you longed for a counter service that offers first class food but served in a hurry. The next time you have to take a ten minute bite, try my delicious hot corned beef sandwich and famous coffee. It comes from the same kitchen.

plained. "Politics has got the best of us. Many of the jurors wished to quit long ago. They (the attorneys) urged us on; they said it would look like politics if we quit before the primary. They said we must continue after Thompson quit, for the same reason. Last night they asked us to continue till they got the appropriation."

"We got rid of Crowe because he called us; we've accomplished nothing since, because he is too close to Brundage."

To Draw Up Final Report.

Foreman Boyk called on Judge McKinley during the afternoon.

"Tuesday night will be our last session," he reported. "We have done nothing lately but rehearse old testimony. We'll appoint a committee to draw up a final report, and our duty will be finished. No use trying to go on after Seelenfreund's statement."

The assistants in charge, Brown, Barnhart and Charles M. Haft, issued this statement:

"This attack from Mr. Seelenfreund is quite in line with the bill foran injunction before Judge Denis E. Sullivan to tie up the funds appropriated to carry on this investigation. We cannot look upon it in any other light. Mr. Seelenfreund was not present in the grand jury room when it voted the indictment against Lundin and Rohan."

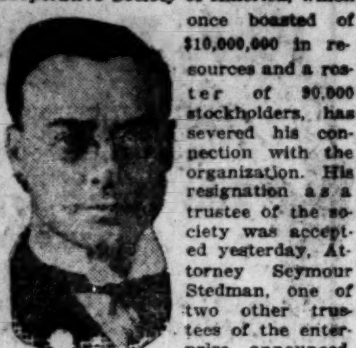

Defend Brundage's Stand.

"It is true that Mr. Seelenfreund attempted to have the grand jury wind up its investigation last evening, but this the grand jury almost unanimously refused to do. He was the only one of the members of the jury who charged that any politics was being played by the attorney general or his assistants."

"We wish to say on behalf of ourselves that when Attorney Brundage appointed us to take charge of the investigation and we were named with the approval of the Chicago Bar association, Mr. Brundage stated to us that he had no friends to favor nor enemies to punish; that we were to prosecute every guilty man whom we thought the evidence would convict and to prosecute no man unless we thought the evi-

HARRISON PARKER RESIGNS FROM CO-OP SOCIETY

Harrison M. Parker, founder of the Cooperative Society of America, which once boasted of $10,000,000 in resources and a roster of 90,000 stockholders, has severed his connection with the organization. His resignation, a 9/2 trustee of the society was accepted yesterday, Attorney Seymour Stedman, one of two other trustees of the enterprise, announced.

HARRISON M. PARKER.

Parker's resignation was an aftermath of the cooperative society's rather notable career in federal bankruptcy court. Mr. Stedman admitted rumor that the society's mail order department suffered a loss of $400,000 during 1922.

"This branch of the business will be disposed of," he said. Mr. Stedman asserted that Mr. Parker's resignation was entirely voluntary and that it came when it was decided the society would no longer deal in ventures requiring promotion genius."

denance warranted a conviction. These instructions have never been changed. "The attorney general has never asked at any time to have any one included in an indictment or to have any one excluded. We have been given an absolutely free hand. There has been no politics played in the investigation by the attorney general nor by us."

"Lie," Crowe Asserts.

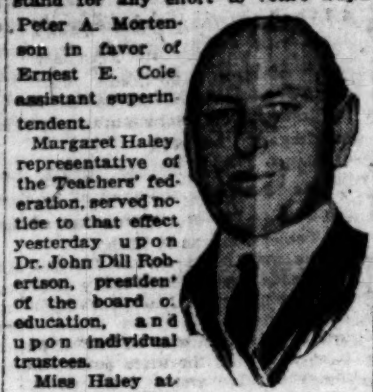

State's Attorney Crowe elaborated his statement about Seelenfreund's charge concerning the $3,000 and Mortimer E. Flynn.

"There is one Democratic member of the grand jury spreading Democratic propaganda aimed at Brundage and myself, trying to destroy us and impede us in our work of cleaning up the school board investigation. In this they are aided by a Democratic official who was disappointed in his ambition to be a candidate for mayor."

"If they would sponsor over their signatures the lies they are spreading we could hold them responsible."

DR. ROBERTSON DENIES PLOT TO OUST MORTENSON

School teachers of Chicago will not stand for any effort to retire Supt. Peter A. Mortenson in favor of Ernest E. Cole, assistant superintendent.

ERNEST E. COLE.

Margaret Haley, representative of the Teachers' Federation, served notice to that effect yesterday upon Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the board of education, and upon individual trustees.

Miss Haley attended a meeting of the trustees, (U.S. & U.S. Photo.) accompanied by Mrs. William E. Hoffman of the joint committee on school affairs, to make known the attitude of the teachers.

Denied by Robertson.

"There is no plan to retire Mortenson," Dr. Robertson told her. "I have personally interviewed every member of the board and they all say they are for him."

"Nevertheless, I know they entertain that scheme, and there are at least 5,000 teachers who will be a unit in fighting it," Miss Haley replied.

Cole Disclaims Move.

Mr. Cole disclaimed any ambition for the position of superintendent in a signed statement presented to Mr. Mortenson, at the suggestion of Trustee Hart Hanson, supporter of the incumbent.

"This will help to run the schemers under cover," Hanson said, "temporarily, at least."

The finance committee yesterday voted to recommend to the board that it award a $40,000 contract for electric lights to the Hub Electric company of Chicago, with the understanding that the concern will make a survey of the schools.

SHOOTING VICTIM DIES.

Joseph Bastie, 27 years old, 1434 Spruce street, who was shot Sunday night by an unidentified man while at May and Taylor streets, died yesterday in Bridewell hospital.

COUNTY TO HIRE NURSE SERVICE; SAVES $100,000

Cut Psychopathic Hospital Cost.

Nearly $100,000 will be saved to county taxpayers annually and more efficient care assured insane patients, it is said, as the result of the decision of the county board finance committee yesterday to contract with the Illinois Training School for Nurses for nursing service at the Psychopathic hospital.

The measure was but one of more than a dozen others adopted by the committee considering the 1923 budget in their effort to further slash proposed departmental expenditures, which still exceed the county's estimated 1923 revenue by more than $400,000. About $119,000 was stripped from various department estimates in a two hour session of the committee on Tuesday.

Cost $1,770 a Patient.

According to the report of J. L. Jacobs, efficiency engineer, each patient at the Psychopathic institution costs the county an average of $1,770 a year under the present system. At the county hospital, where nurses are supplied by the training school, the cost is approximately $210 a year per patient.

Dr. Florence Fowler, resident woman alienist at the Psychopathic hospital, came near losing her position when Jacobs asserted that the presence of both a male and female physician was unnecessary at the institution. Efforts to abolish the position in other years met with vigorous opposition from judges and civic societies. It was recalled and the committee withheld its decision on her status.

Dismiss Old Employees.

Considerable opposition by President Anton J. Cermak, Commissioners Joseph Fitzgerald, William Busse and Mrs. E. W. Bemis, to the Jacobs' recommendations developed when it was disclosed that, with the exception of Dr. Fowler, no "high officials" had been recommended for dismissal or salary cut. Fifty-five employees, many of them veterans of years in the county's service were let out, however.

BRITISH TO LET EGYPT HANDLE TUT-ANKH-AMEN

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tut-Ankh-Amen's affairs cropped up in the house of commons today.

Ronald MacNeill, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, was asked by Sir Harry Brittain, "whether, when archaeology, science, and art have been duly satisfied from the recent discoveries at Deir-El-Bahari, his majesty's government will, if necessary, use its influence to suggest that the body of King Tut-Ankh-Amen may be allowed to remain in what he desired to be his last resting place."

Mr. MacNeill replied that the government had no desire to interfere in a matter in which the Egyptian government rested with the Egyptian government. This evoked cheers.

Then Mr. Hardie, Laborite, asked whether Mr. MacNeill or the British government had any proof that the real Tut-Ankh-Amen had been found. The government spokesman replied: "I have no official knowledge that the body of his late majesty is in the sarcophagus."

¶ Prying historians have left totally unblemished the names of few national heroes. Of such transcendently great names that of Washington is first. That, at the origin of our nation, it was permitted to mortal clay to take on, in such degree as did Washington, the character of nobility is a sign of guidance as brilliant as that divinely proclaimed symbol—the rainbow.

¶ And yet there are those who would lightly change a national constitution, so fostered, into an instrument responsive to all passing expediency.

¶ The constitution, in its original form and its early amendments, concerned, almost exclusively, enlargement of the rights of people, whereas the present tendency in fundamental law is distinctly in the opposite direction. Some time today would be a fitting time again to read the constitution and to give thought to such considerations as may arise.

¶ Regardless of the fact that the security of a democracy is in the intelligent interest and watchfulness of all its people, it is possible that some will say we should busy ourselves about our baking and leave statecraft to those better qualified.

¶ Well—so be it. People must eat on Washington's birthday as on all other days.

¶ Those who think that this great day may properly be celebrated, in part, by feasting upon food of very great merit will not be disappointed should they come to Henrici's morning, noon or early or late evening.

¶ And it might add to the enjoyment of your family should you take home with you today an ample assortment of cakes and other good things from the Henrici ovens.

Celebrations of George Washington's birthday, marked by a strong patriotic sentiment, have been arranged by various societies all over the city today. The day is a holiday for children, as the 400 city schools are closed. Exercises in honor of the president were held in the grade schools yesterday.

Chief among the celebrations arranged by the Union League was the morning session of the high school students, who were more than 750 will participate in the program. A bag band and singing club are featured, and the minute speeches on phases of Washington's career will be delivered by students chosen in preliminary tests.

Gen. Dawes to Speak.

Flag raising ceremony will be held at the afternoon session, which is primarily for adults. Gen. G. Dawes, on "The New Rights." The day will conclude with a dinner at the clubhouse of the Union League, presided over by W. B. Baird, president of the city bank of New York. The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, of the First Congregational church, Lake City, Utah, will all speak. Dean James Alton James of western university, will address members of the Chicago Historical society this evening on "George Washington, American Citizen."

There will have for a background the collection of souvenirs from the soldiers from the hospitals in and around Chicago. The guests at a Washington ball to be given by the Daughters of the Republic at the Edgewater hotel.

Rep. to Observe Day.

Greater Chicago post of the War and Foreign Wars and the Town Memorial auxiliary are patriotic entertainment in the Union Park field house assembly at 7:30 p. m. A dance will follow. There will be no delivery today and only one collection, the main postoffice at 10:30 a. m.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DINED WELL AND HAD PLENTY GOOD LIQUOR

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21.—(United News.)—George Washington, as President, certainly set a good table. An itemized list, passed by Washington and giving his household expenses from May 24 to Aug. 24, 1793, when the White House was in New York City, is contained in a state collection of Washington's papers here. Based on the expenses for three months, Washington figured out his "year's" expense at $25,000. His butcher's bill for three months ran to about $600, including four sessions when turkey graced the presidential provender. The cost of fresh vegetables was $200, while milk and cream cost $145, and lobsters represented an outlay of $45. The cake eaten in the household was worth exactly 17 shillings. Even those days servants broke dishes, this item being set down at $65. In three months he spent $170 for beer, $106 for claret, $45 for porter, and 5 shillings for cordial.

HAWKINS' KIN FAIL TO IDENTIFY MURDER VICTIM

Not He, They Think as They Look on Body in Morgue.

Mystery surrounding the Geneva torture slaying deepened last night, when the father and brother of Samuel Floyd Hawkins were unable to identify the body, while six persons, all intimates of Hawkins, have declared positively that he is the victim.

Robert Daniel Hawkins, the father, and Robert Hugh Hawkins, the brother of the man whose body supposedly lay in Skoglund's morgue at Geneva, went to the scene last night from their home at Kalamazoo, convinced that the victim was Samuel Hawkins. They came away skeptical, but confessing themselves not entirely convinced that the body was not that of their son and brother.

When a boy, young Hawkins suffered two small cuts, one on each shin, while mowing the grass in the yard of his home at Hartsville, Tenn. These scars did not appear on the body of the murdered man.

The second point was found in the size of the feet, those of the victim taking a shoe at least one and a half sizes larger than those worn by Hawkins.

4,000 GARMENT
WORKERS TO GO ON STRIKE TODAY
Demanding the elimination of piece work pay rate and the installation of a weekly pay system, approximately 4,000 members of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union will strike this morning.

Final efforts last night on the part of union officials led by Abraham Schaffner to avert a strike failed, when representatives of the employers stood pat for the piece work system in the cloak and dress making establishments.

"Many of these shops where our members have to work are nothing less than sweat shops under the piece work system," said Schaffner. Speaking for the employers, Morris Levin said the strike is due to union officials attempting to foster unionism in an industry in which more than 80 per cent of the shops operate on an open shop basis.

REVENGE BLAMED BY DOCTOR FOR NURSES' CHARGE

Her Alleged Attitude in War Cited.

A physician, denying in terms both medical and personal, charges of an alleged attack on one of his nurses, and a minister quoting scripture to justify the wife's attitude toward his hospital, laid their information before Judge Julius C. Kern in Superior court yesterday during the second day's testimony in the $25,000 "kiss" suit.

The physician was Dr. Justin L. Mitchell of the German Deaconess hospital, charged by Miss Mathilde Benkhart, formerly student nurse at the hospital, with twice kissing and once trying to attack her in the hospital nursery. He denied all charges categorically.

In Charge of Inquiry.
The minister was the Rev. Frederick Weber, superintendent of the hospital, and in charge of the investigation in April, 1919, following Miss Benkhart's report of Dr. Mitchell's alleged misconduct.

Dr. Mitchell took the stand in his own behalf. His attitude was more that of an angry, denying, and at times confused man than that of a well polished man of medicine. He showed none of the cool impersonality displayed by Miss Benkhart.

"I did not attempt to kiss Miss Benkhart. I did not hug her or make any improper advances toward her," he declared.

Tells of War Incident.
Against the protest of the girl's attorney, Charles F. Mothrop, the court admitted Dr. Mitchell's testimony regarding a war incident. "In 1917," the doctor recalled, "I overheard Miss Benkhart saying, 'I wish I was in Rockford. Then some of the boys wouldn't get across. I would put poison in their soup.' 'I reprimanded her, and it seems to me that she disliked me after that.' He said it explains her story of an attack in which she was too terrified to scream for twenty minutes, although she could have been heard all over the hospital."

Passes on Stand.
The Rev. Mr. Weber admitted that Miss Benkhart had never been permitted to present her case at the board meeting which voted to dismiss her and she did not deny that no physician of her own choosing had been present at the physical examination which reported her unharmed.

"In the first place," he said, "I learned from the sisters and the nurses that her reputation for truth and veracity was bad." Then, haltingly, the minister told how the sisters had reported the girl's lack of moral stability made her a menace to the other nurses.

1923 AUTO TOLL 83; TWO DRIVERS HELD FOR TRIAL

Injuries suffered when the motor truck which he was driving overturned near Willow Springs Tuesday, caused the death yesterday of Mike Stepp, 45 years old, of Lamont. Stepp, Cook county's eighty-third victim of automobile accidents this year, was employed by the Corn Products Refining company at Argo.

Passing motorists who took Stepp to La Grange hospital asserted that icy pavements caused the heavy machine to skid to the edge of the road where it capsized into a ditch. Stepp's skull was fractured.

Delegates to the National Fraternal congress, in session at the Hotel Sherman yesterday demanded imposition of heavier penalties upon careless, incompetent or intoxicated drivers.

Abe Klass, chauffeur for Senator District Trustee Morris Eller, was accused of manslaughter in connection with the death last summer of Miss Blanche Sommers, 1310 South Millard avenue. Bonds for Klass, who within six weeks of the death of Miss Sommers struck and killed an aged man, were fixed at $10,000.

Similar charges are contained in an indictment returned against Stephen Jutich, whose automobile is alleged to have crashed into a buggy at Norwood Park, killing Mrs. Margaret Belbach. His bonds were fixed at $5,000.

WOMAN'S INJURY IN FATAL BATTLE LAID TO KELLIHER

It was a bullet from the automatic of Steve Kelliher, labor leader, slain in a duel with "Denny" McCarthy at Al Tarmey's cab Sunday night, that struck Mrs. Thomas Goidan, 5349 Prairie avenue, an innocent bystander, according to announcement of Assistant State's Attorney Roy C. Woods. Earlier in the day Mr. Woods had caused a duces tecum subpoena to be served on Attorney E. J. Kanne, Mrs. Goidan's counsel, who had refused to give up the bullet at command of authorities.

Kelliher's funeral will be conducted at 9 o'clock this morning from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Annie Austin, 6356 Justine street.

TAX EXEMPTION AND VOTE EXEMPTION.

City, Ia., Feb. 16.—William's articles on "Tax Exempt Secu- rities" are fine and tremendously worth

—but why stop there? Tax exempt securities can be con- siderably abolished so can tax exempt ties. Tens of thousands of employ- ees in United States government, states, cities, and cities never pay a dollar of yet many of them are charged with responsibility of spending tax money; they had to pay part of it perhaps thought might be given to the

ing. There is a class of citizens that is legally exempt from taxation on their income in public office, most of whom will be that they ought to be in the tax- ing class, and yet they are in a favored class and as a rule do better prize than men doing practically the same kind of work for private corpora- tions or individuals.

SOCIALISTS GAY IN WISCONSIN OVER GUARD VOTE

Outweigh Progressives in House, It Shows.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—[Special].—The Socialist cat seems to have grabbed the "progressive" canary in the La Follette-Berger political alliance. This was the view taken at the statehouse today as Wisconsin awoke to the vote of the house to abolish the Wisconsin National guard, the most radical thing that has ever happened even in the history of Wisconsin legislation.

By the Socialists, the present legislature is acclaimed the most radical in any of the forty-eight commonwealths, and at the opening of the session the boast was made that it would shove itself across of a sort that would make the world sit up and take notice.

Today's vote of the house through the Socialist camp, while the state administration, itself semi-socialistic under the label "progressive," was worried and distressed. Control of the house appears to have passed to the office of Mayor Dan Hoan of Milwaukee, Socialist, whose secretary, Thomas Duncan, a Yale graduate, is leader of the Socialists in the assembly.

Many La Follette Warned.
Many of the La Follette men have become alarmed. Some fear are expressed that the extreme left, if it keeps up the pace it set on Tuesday, may run away with the administration program.

So far as the national guard is concerned, the general belief here is that it is safe and that the bill to abolish it will be stopped in its tracks, either by the senate or by Governor Blair. The fact that three hours after the house voted to abolish the national guard the senate committee on state affairs killed the bill, which is expected to be passed by the house, is supposed to indicate the spirit of the upper branch.

It is, however, the senate should pass the bill, which is not expected to be passed by the house, is supposed to indicate the spirit of the upper branch.

Explaining the Vote.
The easy birds around the legislature say the low down is that the house was really "slipping the buck" to the senate, and that the bill went through because the lower branch knew it would not reach the home plate. Only in this way can they explain the vote of 46 to 14 by which the house voted to wipe out the state soldiery. In the legislature the Socialists have ten members in the lower house and three in the senate. So the bill got fifty-five members who were not of the Socialist party, regardless of their radicalism.

This group of fifty-five included all sorts and conditions of lawmakers from wild and woolies and some rather hard shell conservatives with a radical complexion. Among them were La Follette men, anti-La Follette men of the committee of forty-four, a few stalwarts, and the solitary Democrat in the house, who was paired for the bill. The ten Socialists had kidnapped them all.

Pneumonia Victim

PRINCE MIGUEL DE BRAGANZA.

PRINCE MIGUEL OF PORTUGAL IS DEAD IN GOTHAM

New York, Feb. 21.—Prince Miguel de Braganza, eldest son of Don Miguel Braganza, pretender to the throne of Portugal, died today of pneumonia at the Park avenue hotel of William Rhinelanders Stewart, whose daughter Anita he married in 1909 after the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria had sided the match by making the bride a princess.

The mother of the princess is the widow of James Henry "Silent" Smith of Evanston, whom she married after divorcing Mr. Stewart.

The prince, who came to this country recently to make a living as an insurance solicitor, was stricken with influenza last week and double pneumonia developed. His wife and three children, hastily recalled from Newport, R. I., where they had gone to open their country home, were at the deathbed.

After funeral services Saturday the body will be sent to Baden, Germany, for burial.

thing it has put over in many a year. Their hokum has been the cry of "militarism" and a "military caste."

Blaine Expected to Save Guard.
The La Follette-Blaine stuff, although of course pacifistic, has never gone to the extent of advocating the wiping out of the state troops. It has spouted some resounding generalities about "militarism," but Gov. Blair's intimates say he has never dreamed of abolishing the national guard. But the brakes are not working and the governor has lost control. And the yells that have been pouring in today from all parts of the state against the action of the lower house indicate that Wisconsin is not for giving itself another black eye.

Meanwhile taxation has everybody running around in circles. Today was a field day at the state house. Tax measures before the assembly are being hotly debated. Manufacturers and others say the measures may mean radical tax increases, while supporters of the bill say they simply equalize the tax burden by putting more tax on incomes and less on general property.

Manufacturers Sound Warning.
Today the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association laid before the legislature a list of sixty-five manufacturing establishments which have planned large extensions and additions, but which will not go forward with the work if pending bills go through. George Kuhl, secretary of the association, read a formal statement that passage of radical measures, including tax bills now before the legislature, would place an "unfair, discriminatory, and unbearable burden upon industry."

THREE COUNCIL BODIES ACT TO IMPROVE JAILS

Taking cognizance of Chicago's sixteenth century police jails, the city council yesterday ordered three committees to start work at once on the job of putting that phase of police work in step with a modernized department.

Ald. Charles Scribner Eaton introduced a resolution, approved by the council by acclamation, directing the finance and efficiency committees to investigate the possibility of making the central police station, for which Chief of Police Fitzmorris is working, the keystone of a civic center.

Suggests Other Buildings.
He suggested that a new county jail and a new postoffice be other buildings in the civic group.

Under the Eaton resolution the two committees are directed to "provide for a combined central police administration and Municipal court building." It further declares that the occupation of several separate buildings by the police department in and adjacent to the loop district is "resulting in inefficiency and excessive costs of operation."

Cell Rooms Unsanitary.
These buildings are unsuitable for police purposes," Ald. Eaton said. "The cell rooms are inadequate in size, insanitary and unfit for the retention of prisoners and their segregation."

At the request of Ald. John H. Lyle the council also put the police committee to work on the same problem. Under the terms of the Lyle order the committee is to consider the overcrowding of the detective bureau and central station cells, and also is to investigate the practice of rounding up suspects in all parts of the city and bringing them to the cell rooms of the Des Plaines street, South Clark street, and downtown stations.

QUIZ ORDERED ON CHARGE MADE BY GEN. CRONKHITE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—An investigation of charges made by Maj. Gen. Adolph Cronkhite, retired, that important official documents dealing with the death of his son, Maj. A. P. Cronkhite, had been tampered with, was ordered today by Secretary Weeks. The secretary directed Maj. Gen. Bethel, the judge advocate general, to submit a full report.

The charges were first made by Gen. Cronkhite in November, 1921, in a letter to President Harding appealing from the action of Secretary Weeks, who had refused the general's request for a court of inquiry. At the time Gen. Cronkhite wrote:

"There is no authenticated record of any investigation, military or civil, into the circumstances of Maj. Cronkhite's death on file in the records of the war department."

Howard J. White of Graham Anderson Probst & White has this to say about Nokol

No one is in a better position to speak with authority on the subject of home heating than Mr. Howard J. White, of the firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, Architects of the Wrigley Building and Field Museum. Speaking of Nokol automatic oil heating for homes, he says:

"In the three years my Nokol has been installed, I have been able to maintain a uniform temperature, and that in any predetermined degree.

During the early spring and late fall, it often happens that the heater will only operate half an hour in the morning and evening. With coal, it would be necessary to keep a fire practically all the time and consequently overheat the house during the warmer hours of the day.

I formerly averaged 35 tons of anthracite coal per year, at a cost of about $560. Up to the present time, with the heating season two-thirds over, I have used 2400 gallons of oil, which at an average cost of 11 cents per gallon is $264.

The absence of coal and ashes is very noticeable in the house and particularly in the basement.

I consider automatic oil heating very superior to coal. It is just the thing to make a modern home really comfortable. Certainly the Nokol installation in my house has given the greatest satisfaction."

Mr. White's experience is that of over 9000 Nokol owners. Nokol has been giving a comfortable, automatic, heat heating service for over five years. It has done away with old-fashioned heating methods. It's as necessary a part of the equipment of a modern home as plumbing or electric lighting.

And installing Nokol will cause you no inconvenience. Nokol burns oil in your own heating plant the change requires two or three hours at the outside—not long enough for your house to get noticeably cold. Then your heating troubles are ended forever.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE
People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Clear the blood and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do what which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taint," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 35c and 50c.

"You must change your tooth paste"

Avoid pastes that cleanse harshly

Your dentist will tell you that the safe paste to use is one that does not injure the enamel. For once scratched, decay sets in. Then pain, expense and unsightly teeth follow.

You can see that you must select your tooth paste carefully.

Here is a safe paste—dentists approve it:

The makers of the famous Listerine have included in Listerine Tooth Paste, the delightful new dentifrice, a perfect polishing agent. It is just hard enough to remove tartar, discoloration, etc., but not hard enough to mar or scratch the precious enamel. Every day it does its cleansing work—safely!

Get a tube—watch your teeth whiten

After you give Listerine Tooth Paste a thorough trial you won't be satisfied with ordinary pastes. You'll like the way it keeps the teeth white and sparkling, and that cool, clean feeling it imparts to the entire mouth. At your dealer's—25 cents.

PROFITS OF VICE ARE $13,500,000, TRUDE CHARGES

Part Goes to Police, He Tells Grand Jury.

Judge, minister, and social worker, such describing to the grand jury vice conditions as they found them, yesterday charged police laxity and protection of houses of prostitution. For such Chief of Police Charles C. Fitzmorris had a ready answer.

Testimony of Judge Daniel P. Trude at the Morals court came last and was strongest.

"Profits of vice in Chicago amount to $13,500,000 a year, part of which goes to the police. That figure is arrived at in this way: There are 600 houses operating, an average of five girls to each, or 2,500 girls. Each must earn $15 per day for her 'man.' That makes $187,500 per day, $1,125,000 for thirty days. Multiplied by twelve gives the yearly toll taken by vice-mongers.

Fifty in Some Houses.

"Some houses have as many as sixty girls. For instance, the place at 2123 South State street, where they 'work' in two shifts. The male solicitor who sends in men from the street is warned when to keep inside and when it is safe to operate. Uniformed police have often been seen chatting with him. There is an escape over the roof to the Rex café.

"The difference between a protected place and one not so favored is best illustrated by these facts: The 'Black Four Deuces' at 2222 Dearborn street is often raided and is about to close up in disgust. 'Bud' Gentry's place, 2222 Indian avenue, and the one at 2222 Wabash, are never molested by the police and never will close up till some one else does.

Police Problem, He Says.

"In the Des Plaines street police district there are nineteen protected places. Warren avenue has ten, and there are thirty each in the Cottage Grove and Stanton avenue districts. It's a police problem, purely and simply. These places are protected against everything except the Morals court and raids by the Committee of Fifteen."

To which Chief Fitzmorris answered: "Why does he only fine the persons we arrest from $1 to $5? What good does it do for us to raid places if the courts will not aid us?" Judge Trude said regarding tight fines: "If the fines go up the rates of protection will go up."

Tarrow Blames Politicians.

The Rev. Philip Tarrow, who told the jury he is superintendent of the Illinois Vigilance association, devoted part of his time to politicians.

"Under the sway of sinister political influences, many officials have become corrupt or spineless," he gave as his opinion. "The spineless official is as big a menace as the man who is brazenly corrupt. I am convinced that no real change in the vice situation can come until the present political regime is driven from power."

He then added a few personal experiences. He had frequently referred to Chief Fitzmorris reports on houses of prostitution and later found them untruthful, but admitted arrests might have been made.

"He is a politician himself," Chief Fitzmorris said of Tarrow. "He is now a candidate for alderman. The Association of Commerce doesn't recognize the existence of his Vigilance association and I don't know any one that does."

Hamas Mayor and Chief.

Miss Jessie Binford of the Juvenile Protective association brought Mayor Thompson into the "red light" glare as well as Fitzmorris, blaming both for failure to purge the city of vice. It was she who filed the petition with Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley on which the grand jury is now acting.

ANTI-EXTORTION LAW IS INVALID, JUDGE DECLARES

David Throws Out Case Against Laborite.

Punishment of union business agents who extort fines or penalties in jurisdictional labor disputes was rendered more difficult yesterday by an opinion of Judge Joseph B. David, holding the Illinois anti-extortion act unconstitutional.

Evidence presented against Joseph P. Winkler, president of the musicians' union, charged with having attempted to extort a $250 fine from Bert Earle, vaudeville manager, was ruled out by the judge and the jury instructed to return a "not guilty" verdict.

Besides sweeping aside the results of many months' investigation of local labor troubles by the Dailey senatorial committee, Judge David's opinion held that dancers or actresses are not "working girls" within the purview of the law. Hundreds of curious spectators were disappointed when the ruling prevented the appearance of Earle's troupe to demonstrate the ardor of their tasks.

"Special Legislation," View.
"This act is special legislation, and special legislation with a vengeance, to grant immunity to individuals and corporations," declared Judge David. "It might as well be understood, and the better we understand it the more certain there will be peace and security in industrial matters."

"The time has come in this country when it should be understood once and for all that legislation and the decisions of the courts must be the end that no group shall have any favor or any privilege against any other group; that every man has a right to follow his lawful occupation without interference."

"Without Meaning in Law."
"This act is special legislation because it is intended to cover disputes that arise between workmen, but not disputes that may arise between corporations or the officers thereof. There is no provision made for punishment of the corporation president who endeavors to frighten or penalize an underselling competitor. The statute is a myriad of words without meaning in law."

40 FIREMEN TO BE PROMOTED IN EFFICIENCY DRIVE
Firm timber in the shape of forty young and active firemen will be given promotions to captaincies and lieutenantcies in the fire department today to fill gaps caused by Fire Commissioner John F. Cullerton's drive to rid the department of "deadwood."

The twenty-five captains will be taken from the old civil service eligible list and the fifteen lieutenants will be taken from a new eligible list posted last night.

The lieutenants' list, one of the largest in the history of the fire department, contains 453 names, with that of Joseph Toberson, 115 South Dearborn street, topping the list with a mark of 82.03. Walter J. Albert, 253 West 104th street, is second. More than 600 firemen took the examination.

2,000 N. Y. Teachers Ill;
Schools Close This Week
New York, Feb. 21.—(Special.)—The prevalence of colds and other ailments among public school teachers here has become so great that President George J. Ryan of the Board of Education today ordered the public schools closed Friday, in addition to tomorrow's holiday. Last Monday there were 2,000 teachers absent from their classes, 500 of which had to be suspended, and the number has kept increasing since then.

NEWBORN BABY AWAITS FATHER WHO VANISHED

"Daddy, come home, a new baby girl and a broken hearted wife await you."

With this message through Tim Tatum, Mrs. Mary Mydlach, 3738 Belmont avenue, hopes to find her husband, Stanley J. Mydlach, who disappeared last November.

Worry, following financial trouble, is thought to have brought on a mental collapse and for that reason Mrs. Mydlach fears her husband is unable to make his identity known.

The baby daughter was born shortly after his departure. There are two other small children. Mydlach is well built, has blonde hair, is six feet tall and weighs 175 pounds.

FIXED BRIDGES GET INTEREST OF THE CITY COUNCIL

The city council yesterday declared its willingness to "listen to reason" in the matter of substituting fixed bridges for the costly movable spans which now interrupt traffic.

The council voted to approach the proposal of Ald. Ross C. Woodhull that the fixed bridge be adopted for the river and its branches by making a study of the cost of movable bridges in traffic delays and another of "the traffic tendencies of the Chicago river."

The first task was assigned to the efficiency committee and the second to the harbor committee.

Ald. Eaton, chairman of the efficiency committee, who introduced the resolution, expects a river traffic survey to verify the assertions of Col. William V. Judson, former resident federal engineer at Chicago, that in two decades river traffic has dropped off nearly 75 per cent.

Upkeep Cost Is Heavy.
After pointing out that the original cost of fixed bridges is small as compared to movable spans, Ald. Eaton disclosed that Chicago appropriates yearly more than $600,000 for bridge operation and $400,000 more for bridge maintenance.

"With the city contemplating the expenditure of several million dollars in the construction of new bridges at Roosevelt road and Adams street, and river traffic falling off annually, the time has arrived at least to make a thorough study of the possibilities of fixed bridges," Ald. Eaton said.

Report of Col. Judson.
The harbor committee will have before it a report of Col. Judson, advocating fixed bridges, made in December of 1919. A paragraph of the report follows:

"It appears to me that the only alternative to the adoption of a policy now, looking to the adoption of fixed bridges in the near future, is to persist in requiring and encouraging large expenditures upon bridges and the like, aggregating many millions, which will have been almost entirely wasted when our successors, a few years hence, determine, as I believe they certainly will, if we do not, to resort to fixed bridges."

JANUARY SHOWS MORE JOBS, BUT SLIMMER WAGES

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—An increase in the number of employees but a decrease in the amount of the pay roll of 4,153 representative establishments in 43 manufacturing industries is reported by the bureau of labor statistics for January.

Figures for January covered 1,339, 678 employees, whose total wages during the one week pay roll period reported amounted to $45,107,230.

Identical establishments reported 1,814,876 employees in December and total pay rolls of $46,392,900. Therefore in January in the 43 industries combined there was an increase over December of 1.4 per cent in the number of employees and a decrease of 2.3 per cent in the total amount paid in wages.

Number of Employees Fluctuates.
Increases in the number of employees in January, 1923, as compared with employment in identical establishments in December, 1922, are shown in 24 of the 43 industries and decreases in 18 industries, while the saw mill industry shows no change.

The pottery industry, as in the preceding report, leads in increased employment, the per cent of increase this month being 26.9. Women's clothing and fertilizers, both of which industries are seasonal, show increased employment of 11.1 per cent and 10.8 per cent, respectively.

Brick and Flour Industries Dull.
The greatest decreases in employment in January as compared with December are shown in the brick and flour industries, being 7.7 and 7 per cent, respectively.

Increases in the total amount of pay rolls in January, 1923, as compared with December, 1922, are shown in only 12 of the 43 industries, with decreases in the remaining 31.

Shredded Wheat

To make a hot whole wheat porridge place the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in a small saucepan and add salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan; stir and boil until it thickens and serve with milk or cream. Contains more nutriment than ordinary porridge.

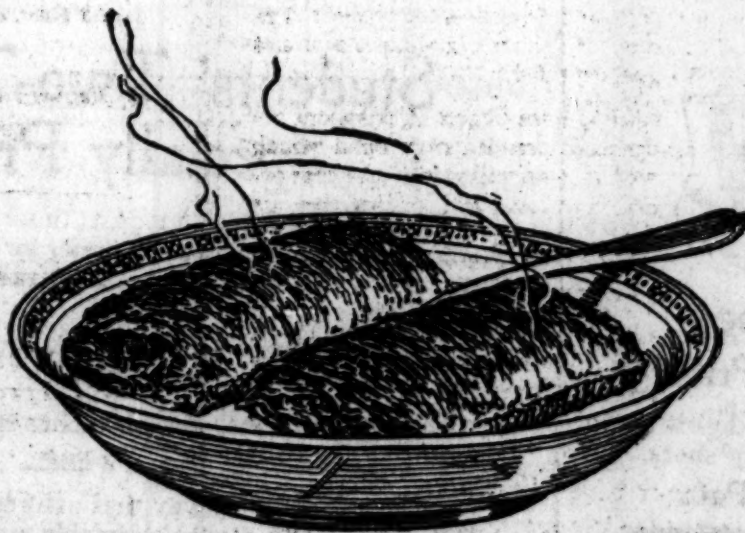

Those who like the crispness of the oven-baked shreds of whole wheat will eat them with milk or cream, or as a toast with butter.

A DELICIOUS NOURISHING WHOLE-WHEAT BREAD

Here is the recipe for that famous "Shredded Wheat Bread" by Alice Bradley, principal of Miss Farmer's School of Cookery, published in Woman's Home Companion.

Break six shredded wheat biscuits into bread bowl, add two cups of boiling water. When cool, add two cups scalded milk, one-half cup molasses, two tablespoons shortening, one tablespoon salt, yeast dissolved in one-quarter cup lukewarm water, and flour to knead (about six cups). Finish like white bread. Half white and half whole wheat flour may be used.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter, soft cheese or marmalades.

THE CONTRACTOR NOTIFIED US about TWO DAYS ago that we must turn over our STORE THURSDAY NIGHT, February 22nd, but by using CONSIDERABLE EFFORT and PERSUASION he GRANTED us TWO MORE DAYS, WHICH MAKES US HAPPY. NOW WE WILL ABSOLUTELY CLOSE THIS SALE SATURDAY EVENING, February 24th, 1923. WE WILL MAKE AN EXTRA CUT OF 25% FOR THE NEXT TWO DAYS. SO MAKE HASTE, MR. PIANO BUYER.

Open Every Evening Until 10 o'clock

THE REASON FOR THIS SALE:
THE CONTRACTOR has a CONTRACT with US to begin REMODELING our BUILDING at ONCE, but we have a STIPULATION in the CONTRACT that he must give US 48 HOURS' NOTICE so we can REMOVE our PIANOS that we have in the STORE, so you see we are UP AGAINST A TIGHTLY PROPOSITION. It is either to SELL THE PIANOS or STORE THEM for 48 DAYS, which would be a GREAT EXPENSE, as you can readily see we cannot leave these PIANOS in the STORE, for they would get FULL of GRIT and DIRT and that would RUIN THEM. We would rather GIVE THE BENEFIT OF THE PUBLIC NOW than to SELL THEM at HALF PRICE after THEY ARE DAMAGED.

NOTICE: Among this tremendous large stock of pianos you will find such well known makes as the Adams, Schiedel, Decker Bros., Hall & Son, Chickering, Bush & Gerts, Kimball, Story & Clark, Davis & Son, Starck, Hallett & Davis, and many others too numerous to mention, so make haste, Mr. Piano Buyer.

POLICE ASSERT REMINGTON DIED AS BOOTLEGGER

Think He Was Purveyor in Hollywood.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Earle Remington, aviator, chorman, engineer—and, it was learned today, bootlegger—may have been murdered by a fellow dealer in moonshine booze.

This is the angle on which Captain of Detectives George K. Home is now working. The still operated by Remington has been located, 150 gallons of whiskey found in his cellar have been confiscated, and the list of his 200 patrons is being carefully scanned.

It was his widow, Mrs. "Peggy"
Virginia Remington, who gave the police the information. She said her husband was not only a bootlegger, and that he had for clients some of the "biggest people in Los Angeles."
She said he made his own liquor, employing one of the best distillers in the country. She even gave the name of the distiller, and others in Remington's employ.

The police have not abandoned the theory that Remington was killed because of a woman, any one of a dozen women, but they are paying most attention to the theory that some fellow rum seller took his life. They questioned a prominent Hollywood boot-legger today, one who quarreled with Remington some time ago, over a check said to have been turned down at a local bank.

Remington was buried today, Mrs.
Remington was not present. The only relative who attended were Blanche Remington, a sister; Thomas Milster,
Mrs. Remington's brother, and Mrs.
Milster.

N. Y. ANTI-SALOON CHIEF CALLED BY SUPREME COURT

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21.—A subpoena requiring his appearance in the Supreme court here next Friday was served upon William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, here today.

Mr. Anderson will be called as a witness in the hearing on the petition of a group of Troy citizens to have the Anti-Saloon league declared a political organization, and as such compelled to make a report to the secretary of state regarding its receipts and disbursements.

Declines Waiver Offer.

New York, Feb. 21.—(Special.)—William H. Anderson declined today to waive immunity and appear before the grand jury when it hears evidence on Friday with respect to the financial affairs of Mr. Anderson as state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.
Anderson's attitude was made known through his attorney, former State Senator Edgar T. Brackett.

N. Y. HIPPODROME TO GIVE WAY TO $15,000,000 HOTEL

New York, Feb. 21.—The Hippodrome, famous New York playhouse, will be razed this spring and a $15-000,000 hotel erected in its place, the U. S. Realty Co., which controls the property, admitted today.

Situated at the corner of 43rd street and 6th avenue, the Hippodrome was opened in 1904 as the largest theater in the country. It has a seating capacity of 5,200 persons.

The structure and its equipment cost $1,500,000, exclusive of the value of the land.

Wet Resolution Adopted by New York Senate, 23-13

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—
The senate, by a vote of 23 to 13, today adopted the Donohue resolution memorializing congress to modify the Volstead act. The resolution was passed by the assembly yesterday. Under an amendment made in committee the resolution must go to Gov. Smith for his signature. He will approve it. Copies of it will be sent to every member of the house of representatives.

ENVOYS' LIQUOR SECRETS SACRED, HOUSE IS TOLD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Secretary Mellon declined today to furnish to the house of representatives information as to the amounts of intoxicating liquors imported by foreign embassies and legations in Washington since the prohibition amendment became effective on Jan. 20, 1920.

The information was asked for in a resolution adopted by the house last Friday after the treasury secretary had refused to give similar data to the house judiciary committee. The resolution was introduced by Representative Crampton (Rep., Mich.), a "dry" leader.

"In view of the principles applicable to international intercourse," said Mr.
Mellon's letter to Speaker Gillett, "and the existing immunity to which diplomatic representatives of foreign governments are entitled under international law and other statutes, I am not in a position to transmit this information to the house of representatives for the reason that it would be incompatible with the public interest to furnish it."

TWO BOYS FINED FOR ROBBERY.

Changing robbery charges to charges of disorderly conduct, Judge Charles McElroy yesterday fined Bruno Kucinski, 17 years old, and his brother, Stephen, 15 years old, 1232
Austin avenue, $25 and costs each.

Points every Victrola buyers should consider

1. Audience Rooms. Thirty-five large, well-ventilated rooms for hearing records. They are clean and cool, furnished with comfortable chairs, and each is in charge of a courteous salesperson.

2. Instant Service. A prompt service counter attended by many competent salespeople, in case you do not wish to hear the records before purchasing.

3. Approval. An approval system for records which affords the opportunity to take home as many records as are desired, play them and return those you do not care for, provided one-third be retained.

4. "Three Best Sellers." A system by which the three best of the new records are sent each month to a large list of music lovers—a convenient and sure way of getting what is new and good in music.

5. Telephone Orders. A telephone order desk presided over by a young woman who will gladly take your order for records and see that they are delivered to you promptly. Mail orders receive the same careful attention and delivery.

6. Loop deliveries same day. Phone for Victor records and they will be sent right over to your office on approval. C. O. D. or charge. If you don't like them, exchange them the next day for others.

Happiness for the Children— Happiness for ALL!

MUSIC is especially appealing to children. It never fails to entertain them. But more than this it has a direct cultural influence. Alone or as a part of their games and lessons, it broadens their minds and disciplines their bodies. Modern education demands that the training of the child includes music.
With its great library of the world's best music, in this field one instrument stands alone.

The Victrola

Our unusual purchase plan. It brings music within the reach of all. It is a most convenient method of obtaining a genuine Victrola. This is the plan in substance—Come in to choose the model you like best. Pay no money down on it. We will send it to your home. Pay down only for the first selection of records. Low monthly installments may be arranged.

RAIL PROBLEMS GET ATTENTION OF LEGISLATURE

Started by Resolutions in State Senate.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—A survey of the transportation problem in Illinois, including the proposed scrapping of the Chicago, Peoria, and St. Louis steam railroad and the Aurora and DeKalb electric road, was asked in the resolution presented to the senate today by Senator Harold Koenig (Rep., Kane).

Debate was precipitated by a resolution introduced by Senator Earl B. Searcy (Rep., Sangamon) at the request of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, protesting to the interstate commerce commission against the abandonment of the 256 mile steam road that runs from Chicago to Springfield and Alton, serving sixty-six cities and towns and a population of 300,000.

Lessons in R. R. Economics.
"This is one of the weaker roads, the revenue of which has been reduced and costs increased until it had to go down," said Senator John D. Turbott (Rep., Carroll). "The people of this community are beginning to realize that a railroad is like any other business—it must make expenses to operate. I expect other roads will soon be in the same condition. This resolution, however, cannot do any good."

The resolution, nevertheless, was passed, and then Senator Koenig presented his resolution calling for a committee of twelve members to survey the whole problem in the state, and it was sent to the highways committee.

"Third Degree" Bill Favored.

The judiciary committee today recommended favorably the Jewell bill which seeks to prevent third degree police methods. Senator Daniel Webster (Rep., Chicago) attempted to get committee action on his bill creating a legislative commission to study police and vice conditions in Chicago, alleging graft and close police connections with vice and crime, but the committee sentiment is against mixing up in the Chicago mess and the resolution probably will not reach the floor. Further hearings were promised by Senator Frederick Ross (Rep., Cook), chairman.

The senate accepted the report of the committee on the Marks-MacPherson contest in Chicago. Marks has received 7,329 votes and MacPherson 7,751, seating Marks by 62 votes. The only vote against the report was cast by Senator John T. Boehm (Democrat, Cook), who "believed the ballot boxes were tampered with."

"I believe you can buy the whole election machinery there," Boehm asserted.

ONE-HAND GUNS ARE KEPT BUSY IN COAL FIELDS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—Gun play and murder were described as daily occurrences in the southern Illinois coal fields of Franklin and Williamson counties by Representative Myers (Dem., Franklin) before the house judiciary committee today. He was speaking for his bill to regulate the sale and carrying of the "one hand man" gun. No action was taken by the committee, but a joint hearing on all pending legislation affecting the regulation of firearms was called for March 6.

"Down in the coal fields where I come from violations of the law are numerous," Representative Myers said. "I must frankly say there is hardly a day that murder doesn't occur in Franklin and Williamson counties. Murders are so frequent that the local papers pay no attention to them but they do to the weddings."

Another anti-gun bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator Webster (Rep., Chicago). It provides that all persons who commit or attempt to commit a crime with a pistol or revolver shall be imprisoned for from five to ten years in addition to the sentence for the actual crime committed. Heavier penalties are prescribed for second and third offenses, and a fourth offense carries the penalty of perpetual imprisonment.

State Police Bill Finds

Senate Committee Favors

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The state police bill was voted on by the senate judiciary committee today, and was favorably recommended. The fate of this bill on the floor is in serious doubt. The resolution which was introduced to create a commission to study this problem in other states will not be reported out of committee.

Both houses adopted resolutions to adjourn tomorrow until March 6, before the session.

Practically Same as 1921.

In 1921 the general assembly approved an appropriation of the same amount to the attorney general, Gov. Small, in his veto message, showed the sum to be $161,146. The only change in the attorney general's budget this year was made at the suggestion of minority leader Devine, by which a $175,000 annual item for various matters pertaining to the Illinois waterways, but the $50,000 deducted was transferred to a fund to finance all matters pertaining to the Illinois waterways.

In his budget Gov. Small suggested that instead of the $175,000 appropriation, $100,000 be set aside for the attorney general to use under the supervision of the department of public works controlled by the governor.

SMALL IGNORED AND BRUNDAGE'S BUDGET ADVISED

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—The house appropriations committee today approved Attorney General Brundage's request for an appropriation of $1,077,240 to pay the expenses of his office the next two years, completely ignoring Gov. Small's estimate of the sum he thinks the attorney general should have. The governor recommended an appropriation of $656,640.

The only dissenting vote to favor the recommendation was by Representative Roe (Dem., Fayette). Action was taken after the committee had scrutinized the attorney general's pay rolls for the last four years, submitted at the request of the committee.

Practically Same as 1921.

In 1921 the general assembly approved an appropriation of the same amount to the attorney general, Gov. Small, in his veto message, showed the sum to be $161,146. The only change in the attorney general's budget this year was made at the suggestion of minority leader Devine, by which a $175,000 annual item for various matters pertaining to the Illinois waterways, but the $50,000 deducted was transferred to a fund to finance all matters pertaining to the Illinois waterways.

In his budget Gov. Small suggested that instead of the $175,000 appropriation, $100,000 be set aside for the attorney general to use under the supervision of the department of public works controlled by the governor.

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.
John Corbys is devoted to Sylvia, his second wife, and their young son. He is one of England's great financiers and just after his appointment to the cabinet his first wife, Katherine, whom he had divorced because of her unfaithfulness, threatens to return their divorce case on a technicality unless he returns to live with her as her husband. He goes back to her in order to avoid staining Sylvia's honor and his son's name, and to give Sylvia back to the blow by arousing her pride. He has been turned away by the other woman. He disappears.
Carfax, Sylvia's guardian, announces that Corbys is ill. After a month Corbys's absence causes a slight panic in the financial world. There is a run on an important bank and out of curiosity Corbys goes to the scene. He has changed his appearance slightly, but Carfax sees and accuses him. He denies that he is Corbys. Carfax accuses but appeals to him as a patriot to take Corbys's place to avert a great financial crisis. Corbys consents. Sylvia agrees to the arrangement and, although she knows he is her husband, she will not permit him to explain.
Katherine, who is evidently being coached in her part, objects to his double role of Corbys in terms and Briery at Baring, and renews her threats. John insists on carrying out his agreement with Sylvia and Carfax. He discovers that Briery, head of the wooden industry and a power in politics, is his chief enemy and that it is he who has incited Katherine to take action against him. A public scandal is threatened, but John and Sylvia agree to face it rather than have him resign before his work is finished. Sylvia bravely sets for herself the task of unraveling the mystery surrounding John's actions. Kate, the detective, and Briery, the politician, help her.

INSTALLMENT LXXVI. A THING OF THE PAST.

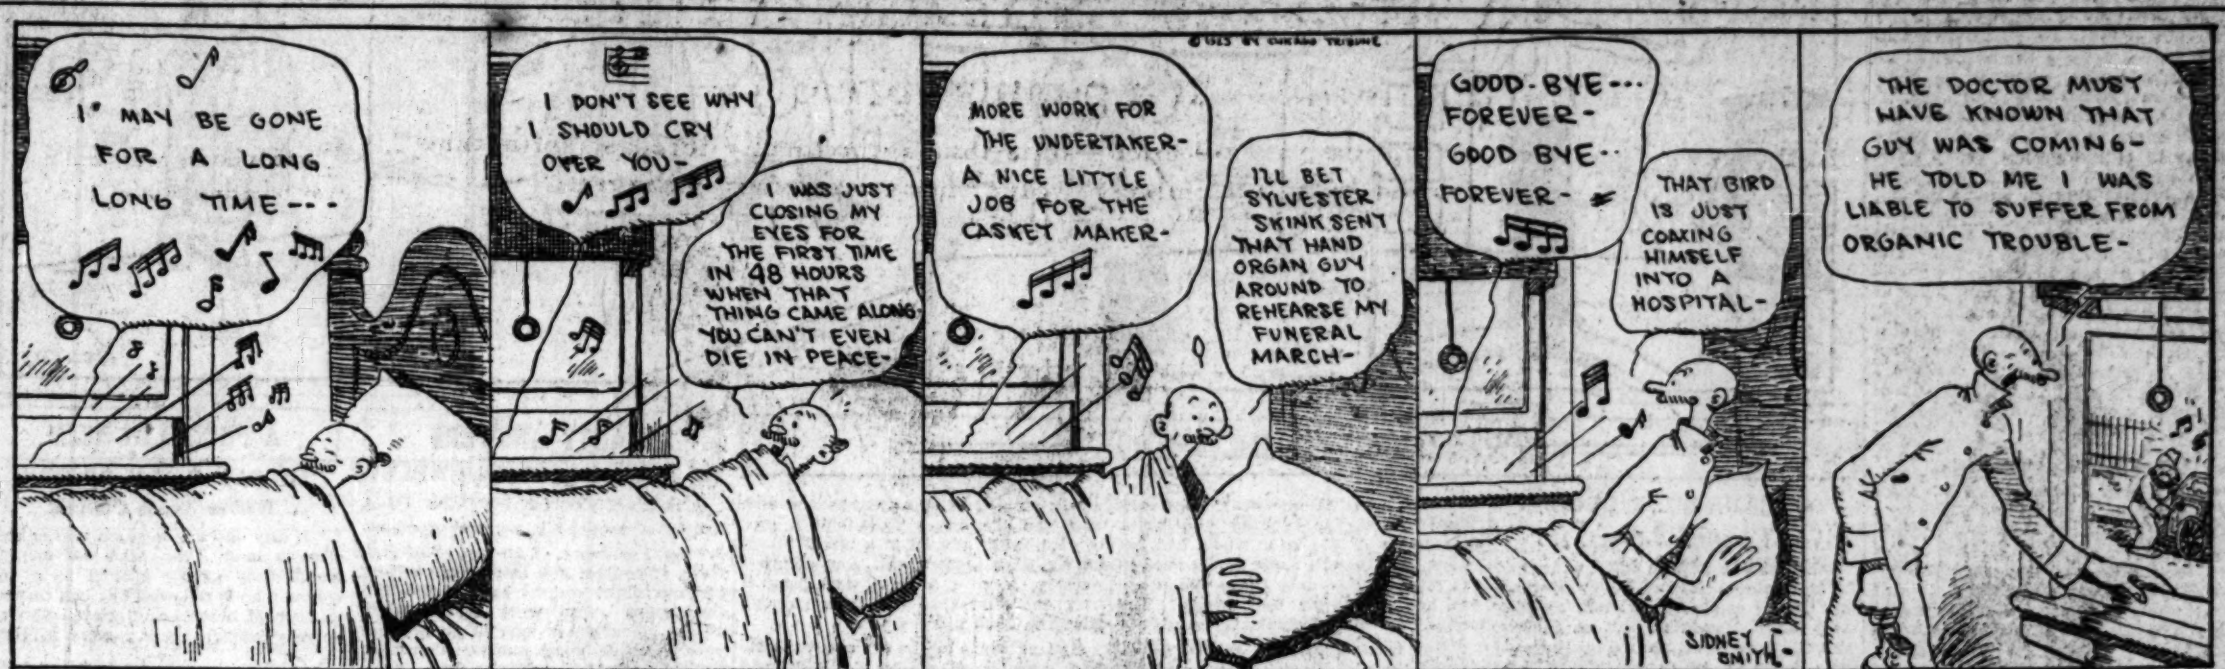

"I don't know what you're talking about," interrupted Sylvia.
Something in her face checked Katherine's elaboration of the point.
"What do you want?" she asked, as bluntly as Sylvia herself would have asked it.
Sylvia, uninvited, sat down in the new leather chair. The terror was growing round her and in her.
"I have had a visit from some friends of yours, Mrs. Pelt and Mrs. Tucker. I gather you have been telling them your version of the facts, and they are sorry for you."
"As you would be," put in Katherine promptly, "if they knew what I'm going through now with not a soul coming near me all day and having to fight for what is justly due to me, though I must say I think it's you they'll be more sorry for when it's all over and I've been righted."
"Can you tell the truth?" asked Sylvia.
Katherine looked infinitely affronted.
"I ask you, because you have lied to us so persistently and in a way so cleverly, that it is probably foolish to accept your word in anything."
"Well really!" gasped Katherine. "What good do you think it will do you saying that kind of thing? Lying—no? You dare to speak to me like that in my own home!"
Sylvia shrugged her shoulders. With a word she could silence the fool, but the moment was not now.
"There is something I want you to tell me truthfully. I told you your friends are sorry for you, but it's not only what we will call your peculiar legal position which moves them. They—"
"My voice failed for some seconds."
"After John divorced you," Sylvia began again, "he lost all trace of feeling for you, except a vague pity. He has no desire of feeling for you now; nothing you say will make me believe otherwise. I doubt whether he has even retained the pity. No, listen, please. What you are going to tell me is whether—how things stood between you during the time you were together at Baring."
Katherine's pallor grew. She laughed a titling laugh that made Sylvia want to strangle her. Her tongue-tied embarrassment was so utterly unusual that it was itself ominous.
"If you believe that you will get John back in the eyes of the world you can afford to be honest," Sylvia pointed out steadily. "You can afford to admit that he has not made love to you. Because if you think you are to be What's a lie—it's a put-up story."

his legal wife again, you will have attained your wish and it will not matter to you whether he ever comes to care for you again."
"What's Mrs. Pelt saying?"
"She said that to all appearances he was devoted to you in Ealing. That is what doesn't concern me, because no doubt you stipulated that he should not be the part. I want to know whether the pretense ever became reality—was for an hour."
The great sparkled in Katherine's eyes. To many women it would have been a triumph behind her; but Sylvia was of a caliber that could not be deceived and she saw consciously and with malice aforethought. The blind and wondering selfishness that grasps at anything for mere possession's sake was outside her understanding. Katherine wanted John Corbys to care for her, but she would have sacrificed his love for an untarnished reputation, and she would have sacrificed the reputation next day for the pleasure of telling her neighbors that her husband was a callous brute who had often struck her and was now appealing to the law to be rid of her.
"I think there are things you would not lie to me about," said Sylvia, speaking brokenly to a sanity that was not there. "Mrs. Pelt hinted that you had a claim on John Corbys that a man of his type could not possibly ignore. That you would have soon—a double claim on him—as I have."
"And if I had? What?"
"No. Don't dodge like that. Answer me. Answer me."
Katherine was now extraordinarily pale. She dropped back against the chair.
"O, don't bully me! Don't—don't frighten me so! My heart isn't as strong as it might be and what with one thing and another." She put her hands up to her face and her shoulders heaved.
To Sylvia that old, old pose was new. She read into it, as she was meant to do, the answer she demanded. No woman, she would have reasoned had she been able to reason at all just then, would have gone on purpose like an early Victorian consumptive. The sudden nervous collapse, the hidden face, the striking as though from physical force—these Sylvia accepted as symptoms of a sensitive admission.
Sylvia found that she was saying, in a quite colorless voice:
"I see. I see. Thank you." She stopped, because that was all she had been able to say to Mrs. Pelt and Mrs. Tucker, and it was really not worth repeating. Of course, she saw. And why "thank you"? Wanting it rather than to thank the lightning that struck the life out of you and left you—burst out?
"Don't cry," he added to Katherine's half turned back. "I will arrange to divorce John and he can marry you again."
Katherine's protest was voluble and vigorous for one who was reduced to such an uncontrolled display of emotion. But Sylvia did not notice.
"O, yes, I know you think that," she said wearily. "I know you think your story will win your action for you. But you haven't heard yet—my action hasn't yet told you—that we have filled in the gaps in your statement. We have found Mr. Briery—the real Mr. Briery." Went on Sylvia with an indifferent gentleness that she did not recognize in herself. "He has signed a confession that he was with you at the cottage; that he was impersonating Lord Henry Graunham."

THE GUMPS—PLAY ME A GOOD OLD FASHIONED MELODY

Miss Young Doesn't Help This Picture

'Woman of Bronze' Might Have Been Good Film.

"THE WOMAN OF BRONZE"
Produced by Metro.
Directed by King Vidor.
Presented at the State-Lake Theater.
THE CAST:
Vivian Hunt.....Clara Kimball Young
Paddy Minton.....John Bowers
Sylvia Morton.....Katherine McGuire
Reggie Morton.....Edwin Stevens
Leonard Hunt.....Lloyd Whitlock
Papa Bonelli.....Edward Kimball

By Mae Tine.
Good morning!
Any time you feel the urge to give a walk advice take yourself for a walk around the block and forget it. If you don't you'll waste your time, your breath, your letter paper, your typewriter ribbon, or whatever medium you employ through which to offer your opinion for another's benefit. In "Enter Madame" Clara Kimball Young did the first real good work she has accomplished for an age. Her rôle was, if you remember, a comedy part. One devotedly hoped through the columns of this paper that she would appear in more such pictures. FINIS. Here she is in "The Woman of Bronze" playing quite exuberantly the rôle Margaret Anglin did so beautifully on the stage.

You CANNOT feel sympathy for Vivian Hunt as portrayed by Miss Young. Instead of cringing from the hurt you SHOULD feel is hers, you have a sneaking joy in her suffering. She is all rolling eyes, saccharine smiles and carefully calculated poses. An awful bore!
Katherine McGuire as the baby vamp who almost breaks up the Hunt home is also badly cast. She couldn't break up anything. Lloyd Whitlock as the temperamental sculptor husband of Vivian is not so bad. Not so good either. Fifty fifty.
The only real acting in the piece is done by Edwin Stevens as father of the baby vamp. John Bowers, as the friend of the Hunt family, who is secretly in love with Vivian, and Edward Kimball, who, as "Papa" Bonelli, strives to make all things right but fails lamentably.
It is rather difficult to say whether or not the direction is good. I imagine that Mr. Vidor could have made a much better job of the picture had he

CLOSEUPS

Again we are to see Ann Little in pictures. She is to appear in a Universal photoplay entitled "The Eagle's Talons."
They say it took as many cameras to "shoot" Emilie Coue as it did to photograph "Dr. W. Griffith's "Intolerance." Reason? It was necessary to get the gentleman "right" the first time, as he declared he had no time to pose twice. Ah—such is fame!

Ant-eaters are heralded as the latest of Hollywood pets. Cats, it seems, are passé; the dog, is just dog; the monkey—ask Darwin. Entree Archie—belonging to Miss Derelvis Perdue, new P. B. O. star. He is said to eat thousands of ants at a sitting.
The inquiring reporter asks, "Where does he get the ants?" And the query for the following day is, "How often does he sit?"

been accorded another star to work with. The photography it is a pleasure to say is creditable as are also the sets and the scenery.

Chris Blake Says:

Now You Can Kiss Him.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 17 years of age and am engaged to a man seven years my senior. I expect to be married next September. He has asked me for a kiss and I deliberately refused him. Now, Miss Blake, I want your advice. Is it proper for me to kiss him if I have his engagement ring?"

DIMPLES.

Yes, Dimples; it is quite according to the rules that he be allowed to kiss you now that he has done you the honor of asking you to share his life with him.

It is hard to find an early edition of "The Virginia Housewife or Methodical Cook," published in 1828, by Mistress Mary Randolph, but so famous was the book that such publishers as grab books on which copyrights have expired took this one and you can find it in these pirated like editions. In some ways this cook book is superior to most cook books published up to twenty ELLA: TWENTY POUNDS IN A couple of months is awfully good reducing, I will say. I am proud of you. Now, of course, you can keep yourself at your right weight by interviewing the scales every week and if they begin to register anything against your present good measurements go lightly again for a day or two. Now, knowing the foods that are fattening and those not, you can be quite business-like about keeping yourself exactly where you are.

BY A. T. GALLICO
This Is One Piece.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—There are many kinds of underwear, and just as many customers for them. Some like them as soft as a feather, some like them long and some like them woolen. Some don't like the woolen, and some don't like two pieces, and so it goes. The illustration shows one of the many styles which are considered comfortable and practical. It is an especially practical garment for the man who likes the sleeveless knee length athletic union suit and who does not want wool.

The knit is knit and the bottom a woven cloth. The advantage of this is that you have an elastic close fitting absorbent top with a loose fitting bottom. The top is comfortable and comfortable to have a knitted drawer, whereas most men like an absorbent shirt, and it is a fact that knitted material, even in cotton, absorbs better than woven material. This suit is in one piece, there being a seam joining the two parts at the waist. More men like the one piece suit than before there is a seam at the waist. The suit is also warm and also because one does not have to buy as many garments.

If a man wants the warmth of a woolen suit, and yet can't bear the heat of a woolen suit, he can get a garment with a cotton facing inside which is just as warm as the all wool. There is also a suit which is wool about the waist and the rest of the suit does not seem to be as popular.

Answers.
M. L. T.: With full dress you can wear a stand up, a poke, or a wing collar. The standing collar makes a good appearance, but the bold wing is more comfortable, because of the open space at the throat, and is the most popular

 ANSWER TO C

NEW IDEAS FOR OF ECONOMIC IN ECONOMIC

BY SCRUTATOR.

Organized labor has begun, unknown to many, a process of educating its membership out of some of the fantastic economic ideas of some of its new political propaganda adventures.

Since the November elections here and in Britain there has been a hysterical demand that labor be educated in economics. Many people have suddenly awakened to the fact that millions of citizens have little or no knowledge of the industrial processes by which they live.

If the scare results in overhauling the public school courses it will be worth all the trouble that has come since the "radical" election. Come to think of it, it is a bit odd that high schools should graduate so many young men and women with a fair knowledge of the solar system or the history of Rome, but apparently dumb as to the production and distribution of the means of life and the industrial history of their country.

But it is not the new education that produces results or puts out labor already on the way to economic enlightenment.

Here's how it happened: Right after the armistice labor began to invest heavily in economic experts and propaganda in the effort to hold its war gains. The "new" drive, which soon followed, stipulated these defensive measures.

Labor sought facts and figures to control the charges of greed by the leaders. Whether or not labor's propaganda has had much effect on others, it has improved its own ranks. At first the statistics and arguments, furnished by the experts and handled by the leaders, indicated labor's satisfaction with itself and its discontent with the "system."

But it is becoming evident now that the economic education of labor is not the tactics of the past such as wage strikes and shorter hours, with no corresponding provision for increasing output.

Recent contracts made in some of the garment trades have recognized the necessity of increasing production to sustain wages.

The experts who have been making out labor's case have had to deal with cold facts and figures. Even an embryonic knowledge of the economic situation is a tough task to perform. Much of the propaganda now being circulated in the ranks of labor is inevitably imparting better knowledge of the economic situation.

But out by their own leaders in their own press it has an effect that no outside propaganda can equal. That effect is to inform and to put the laborer on a basis of understanding the economic situation.

Just as the Marxian "church" bred its own heretics, so the American labor movement is now undermining some of its old occupations.

Inspired by the exaggerated emphasis laid by publicists and politicians upon a few great fortunes, labor's workingmen for a generation or two have been led to believe that a small class of millionaires is systematically "robbing the people" of half their produce or more.

This idea is not confined to workingmen. It colors the conversation of every class, including many business men. It tints many prospectuses and much booster stuff between the lines. Of course "radicals" have spread the doctrine, but their direct influence has been small compared to that of those and ill informed talk in "conservative" quarters.

Contrast this with the newer labor literature put out by such bodies as the "Labor Bureau," Inc., which terms with reference to income tax returns, the profits of the National Bureau of Economic Research, or the work of Prof. Willard F. King. When labor begins to study such things the end of economic myth and muddle is in sight. Before long mental pictures of fat silk hat men robbing shivering kiddies of their pennies will be banished to the realms of Jack the Giant Killer and the Three Bears.

The New York Times.
New York, Feb. 21.—(Special.)—In a day whose markets presented such varied points of interest, and whose close was marked by a reaction, the stock market closed with a slight advance. The reaction, however, was not of the nature of a panic, but rather a temporary setback to a general upward movement. The market was characterized by a strong feeling of optimism, which was reflected in the advance of most of the leading issues. The reaction was caused by a number of factors, including a report of a possible increase in the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate, and a general feeling of uncertainty about the future of the economy. Despite these factors, the market closed with a slight advance, and the overall trend for the year remains positive.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.
Wheat market continues to be dominated by commission houses and local operations rather than by domestic or foreign developments and after a range of 1/4 to 1/2 the close was 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Corn closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower, oats 1/4 to 1/2 lower, and rye 1/4 to 1/2 lower. The market was characterized by a strong feeling of optimism, which was reflected in the advance of most of the leading issues. GRAINS IN ALL MARKETS

May wheat, 1.15 to 1.20. The market was characterized by a strong feeling of optimism, which was reflected in the advance of most of the leading issues. The reaction was caused by a number of factors, including a report of a possible increase in the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate, and a general feeling of uncertainty about the future of the economy. Despite these factors, the market closed with a slight advance, and the overall trend for the year remains positive.

To Grow or to Stand Still?

What would you think of a manufacturer who refused to borrow money when it would effect economies and increase his business? Communities that spend money wisely for improvements receive it back many times over. Such communities grow, and their obligations are good investments.

WHITE TOURING CAR. For long touring or city duty, this car provides excellent transportation. It is the latest touring, spacious and very comfortable, and powered by the famous White 48 valve engine, which is in high repute. The actual speedometer and upholstery are in most excellent condition and the car does not need repainting. The car is equipped in including a new tire, spotlight, etc. Priced way below intrinsic value. $500.

CADILLAC VICTORIA COUPE. T
This is probably the best condition of its type you will find today at our price. It is a very late model '59 and comes with possession in condition which is true. Mechanically it is first class and the car was delivered in excellent condition. Upholstery is spotless and the finish is still highly serviceable.

Lincoln Touring Car. The standard 7 passenger model and a wonderful management condition the same with the regular Allison 8 car guarantee and service. The special shade of blue is new, and upholstery, etc. show no wear. Completely equipped and includes car tires. A value we can recommend. Price, $2,050.

will appeal to the person contemplating purchase of a new Lincoln coupe. Very late model and has been used only 100 miles. The actual odometer is 3,518. It is practically new and with it goes the regular "All new car guarantee and service. To finish, a special blue, retains its luster in washcloth. Competitively priced. The cord tires are new spare, etc. Cars of this model are hard. Cost new delivered Chicago at about $4,700. The price is $3,350.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—The department of justice is staggering under a constantly increasing burden of prosecutions to enforce the national prohibition law. The number of enforcement is actually more than 50 per cent greater than last year, according to testimony before the house committee on appropriations which was made public today.

Some of the more interesting brought to light by the hearings. Forty-four per cent of the federal district attorneys throughout the United States is taken prohibition cases.

Out of 10,000 civil and criminal cases commenced by the department during the last fiscal year, 4,400 were for violation of the prohibition law.

Expects 50,000 Cases This Year. The department of justice estimates that the number of prosecutions of the fiscal year ending June 30 will total 50,000.

Prohibition cases not disposed of on the department at the end of at least 7,000 a year, present prospect of unprecedented congestion in the courts, notwithstanding the present enlargement of the federal judiciary.

On top of the $9,000,000 which is appropriated annually to the prohibition commissioner's office, approximately $5,000,000 is expended by the department of justice in its enforcement of the prohibition law, a total outlay of $14,000,000 for prohibition enforcement.

Despite the energy and momentum expended by the department of justice in prosecuting prohibition violations, fines collected dropped from $2,100,000 in 1921 to $2,377,000 in 1922.

Seek Deficiency Appropriation. Officials of the department are appearing before the committee asking a deficiency appropriation of $75,000 for salaries, fees, and expenses of United States marshals. At present, the department is dependent on the generosity of Representative Thomas (D., Mass.) they presented to the committee the answers of district attorneys to an inquiry as to the percentage of their time devoted to liquor cases.

The percentages ranged from 10 per cent for the district attorney in Massachusetts to 50 per cent for the district attorney in the southern district of New York, where a state prohibition law was passed years before the Volstead act.

In the southern district of New York, the district attorney reported that he spent 60 per cent of his time in enforcing prohibition. The district attorneys of the northern and western districts each reported they gave 50 per cent of their time to prohibition cases.

Volstead's Home Exceedingly Safe. Representative Galloway (D., Minn.), scanning the report, called committee's attention to the fact that Volstead's home in Minneapolis, the home of Volstead, the district attorney was compensated 60 per cent of his time to prohibition cases.

When members of the committee claimed concerning the mount of appropriations for the department, E. M. Kennard, representative of the department, replied:

"Apart from the merits or demerits of the question, it is a fact that the prohibition act is about 90 per cent of the increase in the department of justice since 1919. The department of justice increased from $10,000,000 in 1919 to $14,000,000 in 1922.

"When we give the prohibition commissioner's office $9,000,000, the country have been led to believe that $9,000,000 is all that the government has to do with the enforcement of prohibition. I want the people to know that there is a large additional expenditure of the department on that account. Representative Galloway said: 'I should say that it amounts to a year at least,' replied Kennard.
